ADVERTISEMENT.

THE Collections of Anthems now in use being all more or less imperfect, the Editor has been induced to compile the present volume in the hope of supplying a deficiency not easy to be remedied in any other way.

The Collection has been corrected from the musical copies, the works of the Motett Society, and other reprints of Church compositions; great pains have been taken to verify the Scripture references; and the Editor trusts that it will in every respect be found worthy of a place in all our Cathedral establishments.

For pecuniary benefit the Editor does not look; the work, under peculiar circumstances, having been printed in a way more costly than would ordinarily be required; but should it in the least tend to further the use and love of Cathedral Music in this country, he will consider his labour not to have been in vain.

National Anthem.

God save our gratious Queen,
Long live our noble Queen,
God save the Queen:
Send her victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us:
God save the Queen.

O Lord our God arise,
Scatter her enemies,
And make them fall;
Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks,
On thee our hopes we fix:
God save us all.

Thy choicest gifts in store
On her be pleased to pour;
Long may she reign.
May she defend our laws,
And ever give us cause
To sing with heart and voice,
God save the Queen.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTICES

OF THE Principal Church-Composers.

King Henry the Eighth could not only "sing his part sure," but himself composed, among other Services, one of six parts: he died 1547.

Christopher Tye, born at Westminster, took his degree at Cambridge, and afterwards at Oxford, 1548. He translated the whole of the Acts of the Apostles into English verse, and adapted them to "tones," which he published, dedicated to Edward VI. Supposed to have died about 1553.

Richard Farrant was gentleman of the Chapels Royal to King Ed. VI. and Elizabeth; in 1564 was appointed organist of St. George's Chapel, Windsor, and choir-master there; in 1580 he resigned his place in the Chapel Royal, and died 1585.

Thomas Tallis was gentleman in the choir of the Chapel Royal to King Hen. VIII., Ed. VI., Mary, and Elizabeth,—was a papist. He was the first to set the Church Service to music in the English language; he wrote a "song" in forty parts: sometimes performed at the Annual Meetings of the "Madrigal Society;" most of his motetts and sacred pieces were written to Latin words. He died Nov. 23, 1585, and was buried at Greenwich Church.

Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina was born about 1514; he was "maestro di cappella" in the Church of St. John in the Lateran, and died about 1595.

Thomas Morley took his degree at Oxford 1588, was appointed gentleman of the Chapels Royal to Queen Elizabeth 1592; in 1597 he published a learned treatise in music, dedicated to W. Bird, whose pupil he had been. He died 1602.

Elway Bevin, organist at the Cathedral Church, Bristol, and in 1605 admitted gentleman extraordinary of the Chapels Royal to King James I. in 1631. He published "A Brief and Short Instruction in the Art of Music."

John Anmer, organist of Ely Cathedral, published his "Sacred Hymns" for three, four, five, and six voices, 1615.

Orlando di Lasso died about 1620; belonged to the court of the Duke of Bavier; published several sets of songs in Latin as well as French, also seven Penitential Psalms, which are said to be the best of his compositions.

John Bull was appointed one of the gentlemen of the Chapel Royal Jan. 1585; took his degree at Cambridge in the same year. In 1591 he succeeded William Blithman, whose pupil he had been, as organist of the chapel-band; was the first professor of music at Gresham College, being appointed at the recommendation of Queen Elizabeth. He is supposed by some to have composed the melody of the National Anthem. In 1613 he resigned all his appointments and quitted England for the Continent, where it is uncertain what time he died. About 1620.

Edmund Hooper, organist of Westminster Abbey, died 1621.

William Bird was a pupil of Tallis,—a boy at St. Paul's, and in 1569 gentleman of the Chapel Royal. Some of his compositions have been lately reprinted by the Musical Antiquarian Society. It is a remarkable fact, that though the canon "Non Nobis, Domine" is universally ascribed to him, it does not appear any where with his name during the sixteenth or seventeenth century. He died 1623, aged 85.

Orlando Gibbons was organist at King's College, Cambridge; and in 1604, of the Chapels Royal. "Being engaged to attend the nuptials of Charles and Mary at Dover, he died of the small-pox, and was conveyed to the heavenly choir on Whitsunday 1625," as appears by his tomb at Canterbury.

Edward Gibbons, father of Orlando, assisted his sovereign Charles, in his troubles, with 1000*l.*; for which act of loyalty he was afterwards deprived of a large estate by the victorious party, in the eightieth year of his age.

Andrian Batten, organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, died 1640.

Henry Loosemore, organist of Exeter Cathedral, 1640.

William Lawes, vicar-choral of Salisbury Cathedral, and in 1602 of the Chapels Royal, was devotedly attached to King Charles, for whose cause he died fighting at the siege of Chester in 1645. Some of his compositions, with an engraved likeness of King Charles at the title, were published in 1648. His brother, Henry Lawes, was appointed to the Chapel after the Restoration, 1662.

Christopher Gibbons, Mus. Doc., son of Orlando, was choir-master and organist at Westminster Abbey about 1664; died 1676: buried in the Cloisters of Westminster Abbey.

Pelham Humphrys was one of the first set of choristers of the Chapel Royal after the Restoration, and in 1672 succeeded Capt. Henry Cooke as choir-master at the Chapel Royal. He was sent to France by order of the king, to receive instructions from Lully, at that time engaged at the French court. He died July 14, 1674, aged 26.

Thomas Tomkins published a large collection of anthems, &c. dedicated to the use of the Chapel Royal of King Charles I. under the title of "Musica sacra Deo," printed in separate-part books, 1668.

Matthew Lock, a chorister at Exeter Cathedral, and afterwards composer and organist to King Charles II., died 1677.

Ben. Rogers, a chorister at Windsor, then organist of Christ Church, Dublin; and afterwards at Eton College and Magdalen College, Oxford: in 1685 he was allowed to retire on a pension.

Michael Wise, also one of the first set of boys; from choir-master at Salisbury, he was appointed 1676 to the Chapel Royal, and almoner and choir-master at St. Paul's in 1686. He died at Salisbury 1687.

Giacomo Carissimi died 1690, aged 90.

Rev. W. Tucker, precentor of Westminster Abbey, died 1690.

Henry Purcell was a chorister at the Chapel Royal, under Humphrys; he afterwards became organist of the same in 1682, and subsequently organist of Westminster Abbey, which place he resigned 1793. The world is indebted to Vincent Novello for the collection of Purcell's Cathedral Music;* which is contained in four volumes, with an organ accompaniment, by Mr. Novello, from the original figured basses. Considering the early state of music in this country, and the many disadvantages of his time, he has been justly esteemed the "first English composer." He died Nov. 21, 1695, aged 36; and, to quote his epitaph, is "gone to that blessed place where only his harmony can be exceeded." It is very discreditable to our cathedral establishments that so few of them possess copies of this composer's works.

* But for Mr Novello, many of these valuable compositions would have been lost, especially those of which the MSS. were destroyed by the fire at York Minster.

Dr. W. Child, born at Bristol; at succeeding periods held the situations of organist of St. George's Chapel, Windsor; organist to the Chapel Royal, Whitehall; and, after the Restoration, was chanter of the King's Chapel and one of the chamber-musicians to King Charles II. He died 1696, aged 91, and was buried in St. George's, Windsor.

Jeremiah Clarke succeeded Blow in 1693 as almoner and choir-master at St. Paul's; he was also vicar-choral and organist of the same; and in 1700 appointed to the Chapel Royal, where he afterwards became joint organist with Dr. Croft. An unfortunate attachment to a lady of rank and beauty led to his premature decease in 1707.

Henry Hall, sen., organist of Hereford Cathedral, died 1707.

John Blow, Mus. Doc., who was a boy with Humphrys, succeeded him as choir-master at the Chapel Royal; he also held the same office at St. Paul's, but resigned, and succeeded Purcell, whose pupil he had been, as organist of Westminster Abbey, and was the first who held the appointment of composer to the Chapels Royal. He outlived all his fellow-choristers, and died Oct. 1708, aged 59. Among his pupils were Jer. Clarke and Dr. Croft. He was buried in Westminster Abbey, where his monument may now be seen.

Rev. H. Aldrich, D.D., born in Westminster, 1647, was a learned musician and divine; and was a tutor, and afterwards dean, of Christ Church, Oxford. During his travels he made a large collection of valuable music, which he bequeathed to his college. He adapted very many of Palestrina's compositions to English words, and was a great patron of cathedral music. It is related of Dean Aldrich, that he held the musical talents of the boys in such high estimation, that by way of distinction and encouragement he ordered the four senior choristers to sit with their caps on in the hall of Christ Church during dinner-time. He died 1710.

John Goldwin or Golding, a pupil of Dr. Child, whom he succeeded as organist at St. George's, Windsor, where he died, Nov. 1719.

John Stroude, chorister of the Chapel Royal, died 1720, aged 16.

John Church, choir-master at Westminster Abbey, 1724.

Dr. Croft, born 1677, was educated a chorister of the Chapel Royal under Dr. Blow, whom he ultimately succeeded as organist of Westminster Abbey. In 1715 King George I. granted him an increase of 80*l.* to his yearly salary for teaching the children: 1724 he published his Anthems, under the title of "Musica Sacra." This was the first work of the kind, engraved on copper and in score, printed in this country; all former works being in movable type and single parts, and in England executed in a very inferior manner. He died Aug. 1727, and was buried in Westminster Abbey.

Thomas Tudway, Mus. Doc. and professor of music at Cambridge. A most valuable collection of sacred music has been preserved in the handwriting of Dr. Tudway in the Harleian mss., consisting of six thick volumes, the greater part of the contents of which has never yet been printed. He died 1730.

Robert Creyghton, D.D., son of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, who had accompanied King Charles II. while in exile, in 1674 became chanter and canon-residentiary of Wells Cathedral, where he died 1736, aged 97.

John Weldon, "a delightful composer," born at Chichester and educated at Eton, was some time a pupil of Purcell, as may be seen by his compositions, some of which have been mistaken for Purcell's; organist and composer to the Chapels Royal, 1715; and organist of St. Martin's and St. Bride's, London. He died 1736, and was succeeded at the chapel by Dr. Boyce.

John Bishop, organist of Winchester, died 1737. Some of his anthems are printed in the "Cathedral Magazine."

Benedetto Marcello, a Venetian, died 1739; set some of the Psalms as solos and duetts; they have since been adapted to English words by Garth, a music-seller.

William Turner had the singular honour of being a gentleman of the Royal Chapels to seven kings and queens successively; and was buried in Westminster Abbey, Jan. 1740, the same time with his wife, who died four days before him, they having lived happily as man and wife nearly seventy years.

Charles King, born 1687, was a chorister at St. Paul's, under Jeremiah Clarke, whom he succeeded as almoner and vicar-choral of that cathedral. He died March 17, 1748.

Bernard Gates, gentleman of the Chapel Royal, died about 1750.

Thomas Kelway, organist of Chichester Cathedral, died 1750.

John Christopher Pepusch, Mus. Doc., F.R.S., born at Berlin about 1667, died 1752.

Dr. Maurice Greene was professor of music in the university of Cambridge, organist of St. Dunstan's in the West, and latterly of St. Paul's Cathedral. His anthems are full of sweetness and melody: the anthem, "Lord, let me know mine end," is truly sublime. He died 1755.

John Travers, organist of the Chapel Royal, died 1758.

Handel, born Feb. 24, 1684; died April 6, 1759.

Bacon, vicar-choral of Salisbury Cathedral, died 1759.

Dr. Buswell, gentleman of the Chapel Royal.

W. Raylton, organist of Canterbury Cathedral in 1730, printed a small number of his anthems about 1761.

Dr. Blacke, prebendary of Salisbury Cathedral, died 1760.

Hugh Bond, lay-vicar of Exeter Cathedral, adapted a great portion of Handel's music to scripture words for cathedral use.

Elias Isaac, organist of Worcester Cathedral, about 1768.

Broderip, organist at Bristol.

Baildon, organist of St. Luke's, Old Street, and Fulham.

Capel Bond, organist of Coventry about 1770. His anthems were printed in one thin volume.

Reynolds, gentleman of the Chapel Royal, died 1770.

J. Brown, organist of Lichfield Cathedral, 1771.

Kent, organist of Winchester Cathedral, pupil of Dr. Croft, died 1776.

Dr. Hayes, professor in the university of Oxford, and organist of Magdalen College; died 1779.

Dr. Woodward, organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin; died 1778.

William Boyce, Mus. Doc., born 1710, master of the king's band of musicians, and organist and composer at the Chapel Royal. His anthems and services, which are of the highest order, were printed—one volume in his life, and another by his widow. Beside some published separately, Dr. Boyce also completed the work known as "Boyce's Cathedral Music," which was begun by Dr. Greene, who, at his death, bequeathed the MSS. to Dr. Boyce. He died 1779.

JOHN STEPHENS, Mus. Doc., organist of Salisbury Cathedral; died 1781.

DR. NARES, organist and choir-master at the Chapel Royal, died 1783.

THOMAS NORIS, organist of Christ's Church, Oxford; died 1790.

DR. B. COOKE, organist of Westminster Abbey, died 1793.

T. S. DUPUIS, organist to King George III., died 1796.

REV. W. MASON, A.M., precentor of York Cathedral in 1796.

DR. P. HAYES, professor in Oxford, &c., died 1797.

RICHARD LANGDON, organist of Armagh, died 1798.

JONATHAN BATTISHILL, organist of Christ Church, Newgate Street, died 1801.

SAMUEL ARNOLD, Mus. Doc., born 1740, organist of the Chapels Royal St. James's, and St. George's, Windsor; published, at great labour and cost, in three large volumes, "A Collection of Cathedral Music of various Composers." He composed several oratorios, beside operas, &c., and died 1802.

W. JACKSON, organist of Exeter Cathedral, died 1803.

THOMAS PITT, organist of Worcester Cathedral. Besides his own compositions, he arranged much of Handel's oratorio music for cathedrals: died 1806.

DR. JOHN ALCOCK, organist of Lichfield Cathedral, died 1806.

Edmund Ayrton, Mus. Doc., choir-master at the Chapel Royal, died 1808.

Richard Guise, gent. of the Chapel Royal, and choir-master at Westminster Abbey, died 1808.

John Christmas Beckwith, Mus. Doc., organist of Norwich Cathedral, died 1809.

S. Porter, organist of Canterbury Cathedral, died 1810.

Thomas Ebdon, organist of Durham Cathedral, died 1811.

Richard Bellamy, Mus. Bac., gent. of the Chapel Royal, almoner of St. Paul's Cathedral, and master of the boys, died 1813.

Robert Cooke, organist of Westminster Abbey, died 1814.

J. W. Calcott, Mus. Doc., died 1821.

Dr. Clarke, (took the additional name of Whitfield,) professor in Cambridge, and organist of Hereford Cathedral, died 1836.

J. Stafford Smith, organist of the Chapel Royal, and composer to the king, died 1836.

T. Attwood, educated in the Chapel Royal, studied afterwards under Mozart; in 1795 he was appointed organist as well as one of the choir of St. Paul's; in 1836 he succeeded Mr. Smith as composer to King George IV., and died 1838.

ANTHEMS.

GREAT God, what do I see and hear?
The end of things created;
The Judge of mankind doth appear,
On clouds of glory seated.
The trumpet sounds, the graves restore
The dead which they contain'd before:
Prepare my soul to meet him.

MARTIN LUTHER,
1530.

O LORDE, the Maker of al thing,
We pray the nowe in this evening
Us to defende, through thy mercy,
From all deceite of our enemy.
Let us neither deluded be,
Good Lorde, with dreame or phantasy;
Oure hearte wakyng in the thou kepe,
That we in sinne fal not on slepe.
O Father, throughe thy blessed Sonne,
Grant us this oure peticion,

To whom, with the Holy Ghost, alwaies
In heaven and yearth be laud and praise.
Amen.

MUNDEN.*

PSALM XXX.

I WILL exalt thee, O Lord, for thou hast defended me, and not suffered mine enemies to have their pleasure upon me.

2 O Lord my God, I have cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.

3 Lord, thou hast brought my soul out of hell : thou hast preserved me from them that descend into the pit.

DR. CHRISTOPHER TYE.

ISAIAH LV.

LET the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts : and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

THOMAS TALLIS.

* This Anthem has been improperly attributed to King Henry the Eighth, principally on the authority of Dr. Aldrich. It is printed in Boyce's Collection of Cathedral Music with the king's name; but though he composed two Services, there is no authority to prove that he composed any Anthems.

Psalm CXV.

NOT unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give the praise : for thy loving mercy, and for thy truth's sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say : where is now their God?

3 As for our God he is in heaven : he hath done whatsoever pleased him.

12 The Lord hath been mindful of us, and he shall bless us, and increase you more and more.

17 The dead shall not praise thee, nor all they that go down into the silence.

18 But we will praise the Lord from this time forth for evermore.

Hallelujah.

Matthew Lock.

The first verse also by Kelway.

Psalm XC.

LORD, teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

13 Turn thee again, O Lord, at the last, and be gracious unto thy servants.

14 So shall we be glad and rejoice all the days of our life.

Comfort us again now after the time that thou hast plagued us, and for the years wherein we have suffered adversity. Show thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory. And the glorious majesty of the Lord our God be upon us.

Prosper thou the work of our hands upon us, O prosper thou our handiwork.

HUMPHRIES.

PSALM XXV.

CALL to remembrance, O Lord, thy tender mercies : and thy loving kindnesses, which have been ever of old.

6 O remember not the sins and offences of my youth : but according to thy mercy think thou upon me, O Lord, for thy goodness.

FARRANT, NARES, BATTISHILL.

MATTHEW XI.

COME unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart : and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

JACKSON, J. S. SMITH.

Psalm LXII.

MY soul truly waiteth still upon God : for of him cometh my salvation.

2 He verily is my strength and my salvation : he is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

12 And thou, Lord, art merciful : for thou rewardest every man according to his work.

Andrew Batten.

Psalm XXVI.

BE thou my judge, O Lord, for I have walked innocently : my trust hath been also in the Lord, therefore shall I not fall.

2 Examine me, O Lord, and prove me : try out my reins and my heart.

3 For thy loving-kindness is ever before mine eyes : and I will walk in thy truth.

4 I have not dwelt with vain persons : neither will I have fellowship with the deceitful.

5 I have hated the congregation of the wicked : and will not sit among the ungodly.

Dr. Alcock.

Isaiah LXIV.

BE not wrath very sore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever.

10 Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house is burnt up with fire.

12 Wilt thou refrain thyself? wilt thou hold thy peace and afflict us very sore?

WM. BIRD.

REVELATION VII.

BLESSING, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever.

Amen. Hallelujah.

DR. BOYCE.

PSALM XLIV.

ARISE, O Lord, why sleepest thou? and be not absent from us for ever. Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our misery and trouble? Arise, O Lord! (ver. 23.)

WM. BIRD.

PSALM XLII.

AS pants the hart for cooling streams, so longs my soul for thee, O God.

3 Tears are my daily food, when thus they say, Where is now thy God?

4 Now when I think thereupon, I pour out my heart by myself: for I went with the multitude, and brought them into the house of God.

5 In the voice of praise and thanksgiving, among such as keep holyday.

6 Why art thou so full of grief, O my soul, and why art thou so disquieted within me?

7 Put thy trust in God, for I will praise him.

HANDEL.

PSALM XCIV.

ARISE, thou judge of the world: and reward the proud after their deserving.

3 Lord, how long shall the ungodly triumph?

7 And yet they say, the Lord shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Take heed, ye unwise among the people: O ye fools, when will ye understand?

9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear: or he that made the eye, shall he not see?

10 Or he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he punish?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are but vain.

Psalm xcv. 6. O come, let us worship, and fall down : and kneel before the Lord our Maker.

7 For he is the Lord our God : his judgments are in all the world.

Psalm ciii. 9. He will not alway be chiding, neither keepeth he his anger for ever.

Psalm cvii. 8. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

Dr. Nares.

2 Chron. VI.

HEAR the voice and prayer of thy servants, which they make before thee this day :

20 That thine eyes may be open towards this house day and night, even towards this place, of which thou hast said, My name shall be there.

21 And when thou hearest, have mercy upon them.

Tallis.

[Sung at the re-opening of the Temple Church, Nov. 1842.]

Psalm LXI.

HEAR my crying, O God : give ear unto my prayer.

2 From the ends of the earth will I call upon thee : when my heart is in heaviness.

3 O set me up upon the rock that is higher than I : for thou hast been my hope, and a strong tower for me against the enemy.

4 I will dwell in thy tabernacle for ever : and my trust shall be under the covering of thy wings.

5 For thou, O Lord, hast heard my desires : and hast given an heritage unto those that fear thy name. Amen.

WELDON.

Set also by CROFT, TRAVERS, and TAYLOR.

PSALM LXI.

HEAR my crying, O God : give ear unto my prayer.

2 From the ends of the world will I call upon thee : when my heart is in heaviness.

Psalm lvii. 11. For thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens : and thy truth unto the clouds.

Psalm xcix. The Lord our God is holy : let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

Psalm xcvi. 13. For he cometh to judge the world : and the people with his truth.

Psalm cxix. 73. Thy hands have made me and fashioned me : O give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments. Amen.

J. S. SMITH.

Psalm CXLIV.

I WILL sing a new song unto thee, O God : and sing praises unto thee upon a ten-stringed lute.

10 Thou hast given victory unto kings : and hast delivered David thy servant from the peril of the sword.

11 Save me and deliver me from the hand of strange children : whose mouth talketh of vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of iniquity.

12 That our sons may grow up as the young plants : and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple.

15 Happy are the people that are in such a case : yea, blessed are the people who have the Lord for their God.

13 That our garners may be full, and plenteous with all manner of store : that our sheep may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our streets.

Wise.

Psalm VI.

HAVE mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak : O Lord, heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul is sore troubled : but, Lord, how long wilt thou punish me ?

4 Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul : O save me for thy mercy's sake. Amen.

CHARD, ALLISON.

PSALM XXXI.

HAVE mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble : and mine eye is consumed for very heaviness, yea, my soul and my body.

16 But my hope hath been in the Lord : I have said, Thou art my God.

EBDON.

PSALM XLIII.

WHY art thou so heavy, O my soul ? and why art thou so disquieted within me ?

6 O put thy trust in God : O put thy trust in God : for I will yet give him thanks, which is the help of my countenance, and my God. Amen.

ORLANDO GIBBONS.

HABAKKUK III.

GOD came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth is full of his praise. Selah.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth : he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; the everlasting mountains were scattered, and the perpetual hills did bow.

Although the fig-tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flocks shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls:

Yet will I rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

JACKSON.

PSALM CXIX.

BLESSED are those that are undefiled in the way : and walk in the law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies : and seek him with their whole heart.

4 Thou hast charged : that we shall diligently keep thy commandments.

5 O that my ways were made so direct : that I might keep thy statutes.

18 Open thou mine eyes : that I may see the wondrous things of thy law.

15 Then will I talk of thy commandments : and have respect unto thy ways.

16 My delight shall be in thy statutes : and I will not forget thy word.

171 My lips shall speak of thy praise : when thou hast taught me thy statutes.

172 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy word : for all thy commandments are righteous.

GREENE.

PSALM CXIX.

BLESSED art thou, O Lord : O teach me thy statutes.

9 Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? Even by ruling himself after thy word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee : O let me not go wrong out of thy commandments.

13 With my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

16 My delight shall be in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

HAYES.

Psalm LXXX.

HEAR, O thou Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep : shew thyself also, thou that sittest upon the cherubims.

Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep : stir up thy strength, and come and help us.

4 O Lord God of Hosts : how long wilt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth ?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears : and givest them plenteousness of tears to drink.

7 Turn us again thou God of Hosts : shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

18 So will we not go back from thee : O let us live, and we shall call upon thy name.

——— Woodward.

Psalm LXXX.

HEAR, O thou Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep : shew thyself, thou that sittest upon the cherubims.

Psalm lxxix. 9. Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name : O deliver us, and be merciful unto our sins, for thy name's sake.

Psalm lxxx. 7. Turn us again, thou Lord of Hosts : shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

18. Then will we not go back from thee : O let us live, and we shall call upon thy name.

ALCOCK.

PSALM XXX.

SING unto the Lord, ye that are his saints : and give thanks for a remembrance of his holiness.

11 The Lord hath heard me, and hath taken mercy upon me : the Lord is made my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my sorrow into joy; thou hast put off my sackcloth, and hast compassed me with gladness : that my glory may sing to thee without grief.

13 O Lord my God, I shall evermore give thanks to thee.

PSALM LXX.

HASTE thee, O God, to deliver me : make haste to help me, O Lord.

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul : let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that wish me evil.

3 Let them for their reward be soon brought to shame : that cry over me, There, there.

4 But let all those that seek thee, be joyful and glad in thee : and let all such as delight in thy salvation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

5 As for me, I am poor and in misery.

1 Haste thee, O God, &c.

6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer : O Lord, make no long tarrying.

PSALM XXIII.

THE Lord is my shepherd : therefore can I lack nothing.

2 He shall feed me in a green pasture : and lead me forth beside the waters of comfort.

3 He shall convert my soul : and bring me forth in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil : for thou art with me.

Psalm cxlv. 14. The Lord upholdeth all such as fall : and lifteth up all those that are down.

PART II.

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord : and thou givest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand : and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

21 My mouth shall speak the praises of the Lord : and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy name for ever and ever.

Hallelujah.
Sing unto the Lord all the whole earth.
Hallelujah.

2 Sing unto the Lord and praise his name: be telling of his salvation from day to day.

3 Declare his honour with the heathen, and his wonders unto all people.

6 Glory and worship are before him; power and honour are in his sanctuary.

4 The Lord is great, and cannot worthily be praised: he is more to be feared than all gods.

5 As for all the gods of the heathen, they are but idols; but it is the Lord that made the heavens.

9 O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.
Hallelujah.

10 Tell it out among the heathen, that the Lord is King, and that it is he that made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved : and how that he shall judge the people righteously.

Psalm LXVIII.

O SING unto God, and sing praises unto his name : magnify him that rideth upon the heavens, praise him in his name Jah, and rejoice before him.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels : and the Lord is among them, as in the holy place of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone up on high, thou hast led captivity captive, and received gifts for men : even for thine enemies, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

4 O sing unto God, &c.

19 Praised be the Lord daily : even the God who helpeth us, and poureth his benefits upon us.

19 Praised be the Lord daily.

20 He is our God, even the God of whom cometh salvation : God is the Lord, by whom we escape death.

Psalm LXXIV.

O GOD, wherefore art thou absent from us so long : why is thy wrath so hot against the sheep of thy pasture ?

2 O think upon thy congregation : whom thou hast purchased, and redeemed of old.

3 Think upon the tribe of thine inheritance : and mount Sion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

1 O God, wherefore art thou, &c.

BLOW.

ISAIAH XXV.

O LORD my God, I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done amazing things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.

4 For thou hast been a defence to the poor and needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, a shelter against the raging tempest.

8 He will swallow up death in victory; God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and he shall vindicate his saints.

9 Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us : this is the Lord our God, and we have waited for him, and we will rejoice and be glad in his salvation.

THE Lord is very great and terrible, marvellous in his power.

28 He is great above all his works.

11 Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it : beautiful it is in the brightness thereof.

12 It compasseth the heavens with a glorious circle, and the hands of the Most High have bended it.

13 He maketh the snow to fall apace, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his judgment;

19 The hoar frost also he poureth on the ground, and the eye marvelleth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof.

20 When the cold north wind bloweth, and the water is congealed into ice, it is clothed as with a breast-plate.

Romans xi. 33. O how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

Ecclus. xliii. 16. At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the south wind bloweth.

17 The northern storm, the noise of his thunder, and the whirlwind, make the earth tremble.

Psalm lxviii. 4. Sing unto God, and sing praises unto his name; magnify him that rideth upon the heavens; praise him in his name, Jehovah; yea, and rejoice before him. Amen.

BECKWITH.

LAMENTATIONS I.

THE ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to her solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye runneth down with water.

5 Her adversaries are the chief, her enemies prosper; for the Lord hath afflicted her.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye runneth down with water.

5 For the multitude of her transgressions the Lord hath afflicted her.

11 See, O Lord, and consider; for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? behold, and see if there be any sorrow like my sorrow.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me, to crush my young men: the Lord hath trodden under foot the virgin, the daughter of Zion.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should relieve my soul is far from me.

11 See, O Lord, and consider; for I am become vile.

LAMENTATIONS I.

THE ways of Zion do mourn, and she is in bitterness: all her people sigh, and hang down their heads to the ground.

Job xxix. 14. He put on righteousness, and it clothed him: his judgment was a robe and a diadem.

11 When the ear heard him, then it blessed him: and when the eye saw him, it gave witness of him.

12 He delivered the poor that cried; the fatherless, and him that had no helper.

Kindness, meekness, and comfort were in his tongue.

Psalm cxii. 6. The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance: and the just as the brightness of the firmament.

Ecclus. xliv. 14. Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth evermore.

Wisdom v. 16. They shall receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand.

Hallelujah. ALCOCK.

PSALM LI.

THOU shalt open my lips, O Lord : and my mouth shall shew thy praise.

10 Make me a clean heart, O God : and renew a right spirit within me.

12 O give me the comfort of thy help : O stablish me with thy free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy ways unto the wicked : and sinners shall be converted unto thee. Amen.

Coronation of His Majesty King George IV.

PSALM XXI.

THE king shall rejoice in thy strength, O Lord : exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation.

3 Thou hast prevented him with the blessings of goodness : and hast set a crown of pure gold upon his head. W. KNYVETT.

Psalm XXI.

THE king shall rejoice in thy strength, O Lord : exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation.

6 For thou shalt give him everlasting felicity : and make him glad with the joy of thy countenance.

Guise.

Psalm L.

THE Lord, even the most mighty God hath spoken : and called the world, from the rising up of the sun, unto the going down thereof.

6 The heavens shall declare his righteousness : for God is judge himself.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence : there shall go before him a consuming fire, and a mighty tempest shall be stirred up round about him.

15 Call upon God in the time of trouble : so will he hear thee, and thou shalt praise him.

Greene, Blow.

Psalm LXXXIV.

BLESSED are they that dwell in thy house : they will be always praising thee.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee : in whose heart are thy ways.

7 They will go from strength to strength : and unto the God of gods appeareth every one of them in Sion.

8 O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer : hearken, O God of Jacob.

9 Behold, O God our defender : and look upon the face of thine anointed.

12 The Lord God is a light and defence : the Lord will give grace and worship, and no good thing shall he withhold from them that live a godly life.

13 O Lord God of hosts : blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

GREENE.

PSALM LXXXIV.

BLESSED are they that dwell in thy house : they will alway be praising thee.

COLLECT FOR QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY.

O LORD, who hast taught us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth; send thy Holy Ghost, and pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity, the very bond of peace and of all virtues, without which whosoever liveth is counted dead before thee: grant this for thine only Son Jesus Christ's sake. Amen. MARSH.

COLLECT FOR THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

ALMIGHTY Father, who hast given thine only Son to die for our sins, and to rise again for our justification; grant us so to put away the leaven of malice and wickedness, that we may alway serve thee in pureness of living and truth; through the merits of the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

EVANS.

Collect for the First Sunday after Trinity.

O GOD, the strength of all them that put their trust in thee, mercifully accept our prayers; and because through the weakness of our mortal nature we can do no good thing without thee, grant us the help of thy grace, that in keeping thy commandments we may please thee, both in will and deed; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. Evans.

I WILL sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so lovingly with me: yea, I will praise the Name of the Lord most Highest. Dupuis.

Psalm LIX.

I WILL sing of thy power, O God, and will praise thy mercy betimes in the morning: for thou hast been my refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my merciful God.

Psalm lx. 12. Through God will we do great acts: for it is he that shall tread down our enemies. Greene.

Psalm CXII.

BLESSED is the man that feareth the Lord : he hath great delight in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth : the generation of the faithful shall be blessed.

3 Riches and plenteousness shall be in his house : and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 Unto the godly there ariseth up light in the darkness.

5 A good man is merciful, and lendeth : and will guide his words with discretion.

7 He will not be afraid of any evil tidings : for his heart standeth fast, and believeth in the Lord.

9 He hath dispersed abroad, and given to the poor : and his righteousness remaineth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honour.

Psalm cxi. 10. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom : a good understanding have all they that do thereafter ; the praise of it endureth for ever.

Psalm cvi. 46. Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from everlasting.

Hallelujah.

Psalm xcix. 9. Magnify the Lord our God, and worship him upon his holy hill: for the Lord our God is holy.

Psalm cxv. 17. The dead praise not thee, O Lord: neither all they that go down into silence.

18 But we will praise the Lord : from this time forth for evermore.

Sing, O sing praises unto our God.

Hallelujah. WOODWARD.

PSALM LXVI.

O BE joyful in God all ye lands : sing praises unto the honour of his name, make his praise to be glorious.

2 Say unto God how wonderful art thou in thy works : through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies be found liars unto thee.

3 For all the world shall worship thee : sing of thee, and praise thy name.

4 O behold the works of God : how wonderful he is in his doings towards the children of men.

6 He ruleth with his power for ever; his eyes behold the people : and such as will not believe shall not be able to exalt themselves.

Hallelujah. BOYCE.

PSALM LXVI.

O BE joyful in God, all ye lands : sing praises unto the honour of his name, make his praise to be glorious.

2 Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works : through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies be found liars unto thee.

3 For all the world shall worship thee : sing of thee, and praise thy name.

PART II.

14 O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God : and I will tell you what he hath done for my soul.

15 I called unto him with my mouth : and gave him praises with my tongue.

16 If I incline unto wickedness with mine heart : the Lord will not hear me.

17 But God hath heard me : and considered the voice of my prayer.

18 Praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer : nor turned his mercy from me.

PSALM C.

O BE joyful in the Lord, all ye lands : serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.

2 Be ye sure that the Lord he is God : it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

3 O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and speak good of his name.

4 For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting: and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

Glory to God on high. Hallelujah.

GATES.

PSALM CIV.

I WILL sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will praise my God while I have my being.

34 And so shall my words please him: my joy shall be in the Lord.

35 As for sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the ungodly shall come to an end: but praise thou the Lord, O my soul, praise the Lord.

PURCELL, GOLDWIN, and CROFT.

JUDITH XVI.

I WILL sing unto the Lord a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderful in strength and invincible.

14 Let all creatures serve thee: for thou spakest, and they were made, thou didst send forth thy Spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.

Psalm li. 8. Thou shalt make me hear of joy and gladness: that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

Psalm lxxii. 18. Blessed be the Lord God of Israel.

19 And blessed be the name of his Majesty for ever and ever.

Hallelujah. Amen.

AYRTON.

MATTHEW V.

JESUS seeing the multitudes, went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Hallelujah.

4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Hallelujah.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Hallelujah.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. Hallelujah.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Hallelujah.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Hallelujah.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. Hallelujah.

10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

STAFFORD SMITH.

PSALM LXVIII.

LET God arise, and let his enemies be scattered.

2 Like as the smoke vanisheth, as wax melteth at the fire, so let them perish and be driven away.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth,

8 The earth shook, and the heavens dropped at the presence of God, even the God of Israel.

32 Sing unto God, O ye kingdoms of the earth : O sing praises unto the Lord.

20 Sing praises unto him who is the God of our salvation.

5 He is a father of the fatherless :

6 He bringeth the prisoners out of captivity.

35 Blessed be God. Hallelujah.

GREENE.

PSALM CXIX.

LET my complaint come before thee, O Lord : give me understanding, according to thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee : deliver me, according to thy word.

171 My lips shall speak of thy praise : when thou hast taught me thy statutes.

172 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy word : for all thy commandments are righteous.

173 Let thine hand help me : for I have chosen thy commandments.

174 I have longed for thy saving health, O Lord : and in thy law is my delight.

175 O let my soul live, and it shall praise thee : and thy judgments shall help me.

PSALM CXIX.

LORD, what love have I unto thy law : all the day long is my study in it.

98 Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies : for they are ever with me.

99 I have more understanding than my teachers : for thy testimonies are my study.

100 I am wiser than the aged : because I keep thy commandments.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way : that I may keep thy word.

104 Through thy commandments I get understanding : therefore I hate all evil ways.

CROFT.

PSALM CXIX.

LORD, what love have I unto thy law : all the day long is my study in it.

72 The law of thy mouth is dearer unto me : than thousands of gold and silver.

103 O how sweet are thy words unto my throat : yea, sweeter than honey unto my mouth !

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness : and thy law is the truth.

143 Trouble and heaviness have taken hold upon me : yet is my delight in thy commandments.

PSALM CXXI.

I WILL lift up mine eyes unto the hills : from whence cometh my help.

2 My help cometh even from the Lord : who hath made heaven and earth.

3 He will not suffer thy foot to be moved : and he that keepeth thee will not sleep.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel : shall neither slumber nor sleep.

5 The Lord himself is thy keeper : the Lord is thy defence upon thy right hand;

6 So that the sun shall not burn thee by day : neither the moon by night.

7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil : yea, it is even he that shall keep thy soul.

8 The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in : from this time forth for evermore.

WELDON, CLARKE WHITFIELD.

PSALM XCII.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord : and to sing praises unto thy name, O thou Most Highest;

2 To tell of thy loving-kindness early in the morning : and of thy truth in the night season.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy works : and I will rejoice in giving praise for the operations of thy hands.

Psalm cxlv. 3. Great is the Lord, and worthy to be praised : there is no end of his greatness.

Psalm xxxiv. 3. O praise the Lord with me : and let us magnify his name together. Hallelujah.

NARES, HALL, and TRAVERS.

PSALM XCII.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord : and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most Highest;

2 To tell of thy loving-kindness early in the morning : and of thy truth in the night season;

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the lute : upon a loud instrument, and upon the harp.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy works : and thy thoughts are very deep.

6 An unwise man doth not well consider it : and a fool does not understand it.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy works; and I will rejoice in giving praise for the operations of thy hands.

Psalm XLVI.

GOD is our hope and strength : a very present help in trouble.

2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth tremble,

3 Though the mountains shake, and the waters rage and swell.

5 For God is in the midst of us, therefore shall we not be moved :

7 God is our hope and refuge.

8 O behold the works of the Lord.

9 He maketh wars to cease in all the world.

10 He is exalted among the heathen, he is exalted in the earth.

PSALM XLVI.

GOD is our hope and strength : a very present help in trouble.

11 The Lord of Hosts is with us : the God of Jacob is our refuge. Amen.

ARNOLD.

PSALM LXXXV.

LORD, thou art become gracious unto thy land : thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people : and forgiven all their sins.

4 Turn us then, O God our Saviour : and let thine anger cease from us.

6 Wilt thou not turn again and quicken us : that thy people may rejoice in thee?

Prov. xix. 17. He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.

Psalm ciii. 13. Yea, like as a father pitieth his own children : even so is the Lord merciful to them that fear him.

Psalm lxxxv. 7. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord : and grant us thy salvation.

J. C. Pring.

Psalm VIII.

LORD, what is man, that thou art mindful of him : or the son of man, that thou visitest him ?

5 Thou madest him lower than the angels : to crown him with glory and worship.

6 Thou makest him to have dominion of the work of thy hands : and thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet;

7 All sheep and oxen : yea, and the beasts of the field;

8 The fowls of the air, and the fishes of the sea : and whatsoever walketh through the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord, our governor : how excellent is thy name in all the world!

Turner.

First two verses also adapted to Handel.

Psalm XC.

LORD, thou hast been our refuge : from one generation to another.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made : thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction : again thou sayest, Come again, ye children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday : seeing that is past as a watch in the night.

5 As soon as thou scatterest them, they are even as a sleep : and fade away suddenly like the grass.

9 For when thou art angry, all our days are gone : we bring our years to an end, as it were a tale that is told.

10 The days of our age are threescore years and ten; and though men be so strong, that they come to fourscore years : yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow; so soon passeth it away, and we are gone.

4 For a thousand, &c.

Turner.

Job VII.

LORD, what is man, that thou shouldest visit him?

19 How long wilt thou not depart from me?

20 I have sinned; what shall I do, O thou preserver of men?

21 Why pardonest thou not my transgression, nor takest mine iniquity?

Psalm xiv. 13. O that thou wouldest hide me in the grave until thy wrath be past.

Psalm iii. 17. There the wicked cease from troubling; there the weary are at rest. Hallelujah.

Nares, Child, Croft, Smith, and Alcock.

Psalm XCV.

O COME, let us sing unto the Lord : let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.

3 For the Lord is a great God : and a great King above all gods.

4 In his hand are all the corners of the earth : and the strength of the hills is his also.

Hallelujah.

NARES.

The first and third verses set by AYRTON.

Psalm CIV.

O LORD, how manifold are thy works : in wisdom hast thou made them all; the earth is full of thy riches.

31 The glorious majesty of the Lord shall endure for ever : the Lord shall rejoice in his works.

Psalm ciii. 8. The Lord is full of compassion and mercy : long-suffering, and of great goodness.

9 He will not alway be chiding : neither keepeth he his anger for ever.

Psalm cxlvii. 3. He healeth those that are broken in heart : and giveth medicine to heal their sickness.

Psalm ciii. 13. Yea, like as a father pitieth his own children : even so is the Lord merciful unto them that fear him.

Psalm cvii. 8. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

43 Whoso is wise will ponder these things : and they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord. DUPUIS.

PSALM XLVII.

O CLAP your hands together, all ye people : O sing unto God with the voice of melody.

2 For the Lord is high, and to be feared : he is the great King upon all the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people under us : and the nations under our feet.

6 O sing praises, sing praises unto our God : sing praises, sing praises unto our King.

7 For God is the King of all the earth : sing ye praises with understanding.

GREENE.

Behold, God is, &c.

EBDON.

Psalm LVI.

BE merciful unto me, O God, for man goeth about to devour me : he is daily fighting and troubling me.

2 Mine enemies are daily in hand to swallow me up : for they be many that fight against me, O thou most Highest.

3 Nevertheless though I am sometime afraid : yet put I my trust in thee.

4 I will praise God, because of his word : I have put my trust in God, and will not fear what flesh can do unto me.

Part II.

5 They daily mistake my words : all that they imagine is to do me evil.

6 They hold all together, and keep themselves close : and mark my steps, when they lay wait for my soul.

7 Shall they escape for their wickedness? thou, O God, in thy displeasure, shalt cast them down.

10 In God's word will I rejoice : in the Lord's word will I comfort me.

11 Yea, in God have I put my trust : I will not be afraid what man can do unto me. Hallelujah.

Psalm LXXXIX.

LET thy hand be strengthened, and thy right hand be exalted.

15 Let justice and judgment be the habitation of thy seat: let mercy and truth go before thy face. Hallelujah. Amen.

Attwood.

Psalm XXIV.

LIFT up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors: and the King of glory shall come in.

8, 10 Who is the King of glory? It is the Lord, strong and mighty: even the Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory.

Humphrys, King, Gibbons, Handel.

PSALM XC.

LORD, thou hast been our refuge : from one generation to another.

Psalm cii. 3. For my days are consumed away like smoke : and my bones are burnt up as it were a fire-brand.

9 For I have eaten ashes as it were bread : and mingled my drink with weeping.

27 But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble : incline thine ear unto me when I call; O hear me, and that right soon.

HAYES.

JOB X.

MY soul is weary of life: I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.

2 I will say unto God, O do not condemn me; shew me why thou contendest with me.

Job xiv. 1. Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble.

2 He cometh up, and is cut down like a flower; he fleeth as it were a shadow, and continueth not in one stay.

Job vii. 21. Why pardonest not thou my transgressions? why takest thou not mine iniquity from me?

Job xiv. 13. O that thou wouldest hide me in the grave till thy wrath be past.

Job iii. 17. There the wicked cease from troubling; there the weary are at rest.

Job v. 17. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth.

18 For he maketh sore, and bindeth up; he woundeth, and maketh whole.

Is. xii. 2. Therefore I will trust, and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song, and he will also become my salvation.

BECKWITH.

PSALM CXVIII.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : because his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Israel now confess that he is gracious : and that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the house of Aaron now confess : that his mercy endureth for ever.

14 The Lord is my strength, and my song : and is become my salvation.

21 I will thank thee, for thou hast heard me : and art become my salvation.

29 Give thanks to the Lord : his mercy endureth for ever and ever.

Romans VI.

CHRIST being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, he died unto sin once; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

1 Cor. xv. 20. Christ is risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Revelation XV.

GREAT and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4 Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

BOYCE.

Rev. xiv. 7. Fear God, and give glory to his name: worship him who made heaven and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

Fear God, worship him.

Rev. v. 13. Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, be unto him that sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb, who liveth for ever and ever.

Amen. Hallelujah.

PSALM XLI.

BLESSED is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will preserve him and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth.

2 Cor. viii. 9. Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

Job xxix. 15. He was eyes to the blind, and feet was he to the lame.

12 He delivered the poor that cried, the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon him; and he caused the widow's heart to sing for joy. WILSON.

PSALM XIII.

CONSIDER, and hear me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, O Lord, that I sleep not in death. CAMIDGE.

PSALM XVII.

CRY unto the Lord in your trouble, and he will deliver you out of all your distress.

31 O that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

22 That they would offer unto him the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and tell out his works with gladness.

31 O that men would therefore, &c.

O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see.

20 O Lord God, save us, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord, even thou alone.

PORTER.

PSALM LXXII.

GIVE the king thy judgments, O God: and thy righteousness unto the king's son.

2 Then shall he judge thy people according unto right: and defend the poor.

8 His dominions shall be also from one sea to the other: and from the flood unto the world's end.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall kneel before him: his enemies shall lick the dust.

11 All kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall do him service.

17 His name shall endure for ever.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things.

19 And blessed be the name of his Majesty for ever: and all the world shall be filled with his Majesty. Amen.

Psalm III.

MANY one there be that say of my soul : there is no help for him in his God.

3 But thou, O Lord, art my defender : thou art my worship, and the lifter up of my head.

4 I did call upon the Lord with my voice : and he heard me out of his holy hill.

5 I laid me down and slept, and rose up again : for the Lord sustained me.

EBDON.

Psalm VII

O LORD, our God, in thee do we put our trust : save us from our enemies, and from the hand of them that persecute us.

Psalm xliv. 7. For I will not trust in my bow : it is not my sword that can help me.

8 But it is thou that savest us from our enemies : and puttest them to confusion that hate us.

9 We make our boast of God all day long : and will praise thy name for ever. Amen.

BECKWITH.

Psalm XV.

LORD, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle : or who shall rest upon thy holy hill?

2 Even he, that leadeth an uncorrupt life :

and doeth the thing which is right, and speaketh the truth from his heart.

3 He that hath used no deceit in his tongue, nor done evil to his neighbour : and hath not slandered his neighbour.

4 He that setteth not by himself, but is lowly in his own eyes : and maketh much of them that fear the Lord.

5 He that sweareth unto his neighbour, and disappointeth him not : though it were to his own hindrance.

6 He that hath not given his money upon usury : nor taken reward against the innocent.

7 Whoso doeth these things : shall never fall.

PSALM CXXXII.

LORD, remember David : and all his trouble;

2 How he sware unto the Lord : and vowed a vow unto the Almighty God of Jacob;

3 I will not come within the tabernacle of mine house : nor climb up into my bed,

5 Until I find out a place for the temple of the Lord : an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

8 Arise, O Lord, into thy resting-place : thou and the ark of thy strength.

Psalm. LI.

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, after thy great goodness : and according to the multitude of thy mercy do away mine offences.

12 O give me the comfort of thy help again : and stablish me with thy free Spirit.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence : and take not thy Holy Spirit from me.

Cast me not away, &c.

15 Thou shalt open my lips, O Lord : and my mouth shall shew thy praise.

13 Then shall I teach thy ways unto the wicked : and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness, with burnt-offerings, and oblations : and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousness.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit : a broken and contrite heart, O God, wilt thou not despise.

Greene.

Psalm LXII.

MY soul truly waiteth still upon God : for of him cometh my salvation.

2 He verily is my strength and my salvation : he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

5 Nevertheless, my soul, wait thou still upon God : for my hope is in him.

7 In God is my health, and my glory : the rock of my might, and in God will I trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway, ye people : pour out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

Hallelujah. KENT.

PSALM XCVI.

ASCRIBE unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people : ascribe unto the Lord worship and power.

8 Ascribe unto the Lord the honour due unto his Name : bring presents, and come into his courts.

9 O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness : let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the heathen, that the Lord is King : and that it is he who hath made the round world so fast that it cannot be moved; and how that he shall judge the people righteously.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad : let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it : then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord.

13 For he cometh, he cometh to judge the earth : and with righteousness to judge the world, and the people with his truth. Amen. Amen.

1 Kings VIII.

I HAVE surely built thee an house to dwell in, a settled place for thee to abide in for ever.

27 But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee ; how much less this house that I have builded!

28 Yet have thou respect unto the prayer of thy servant, O Lord my God.

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, even toward the place of which thou hast said, My name shall be there.

30 And hearken thou to the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, when they shall pray toward this place: and hear thou in heaven thy dwelling-place; and when thou hearest, forgive.

37 If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness there be:

38 What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, or by all thy people Israel, which shall know every man the plague of his own heart, and spread forth his hands toward this house:

39 Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling-place, hear and forgive.

St. John I.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2 The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 In him was life; and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 There was a man sent from God.

7 The same came to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light.

9 That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.

REVELATION XIV.

I LOOKED, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount of Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written on their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters; and I heard a voice of harpers, harping with their harps:

3 And they sung a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred forty and four thousand which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. Hallelujah. These are they which were redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And in their mouth was no guile; for they are without fault before the throne of God.

PSALM XXX.

I WILL magnify thee, O Lord, for thou hast set me up: and not made my foes to triumph over me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee: and thou hast healed me.

12 Thou hast turned my heaviness into joy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness.

13 Therefore shall every good man sing of thy praise without ceasing: O my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever and ever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be: world without end. Amen.

Psalm XXVII.

THE Lord is my light and my salvation; whom then shall I fear : the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom then shall I be afraid?

5 In the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle : in the secret place of his dwelling, and set me up upon a rock of stone.

4 One thing have I desired : even that I may dwell in the house of the Lord for ever, to behold the fair beauty of the Lord.

10 Nor cast away thy servant in displeasure.

15 I should utterly have fainted : but that I see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.

Psalm LXIX.

I WILL praise the name of God with a song : and magnify it with thanksgiving.

35 Let heaven and earth praise him : the sea, and all that moveth therein. Amen.

Arnold.

Psalm CXVI.

I WILL receive the cup of salvation : and call upon the name of the Lord.

4 O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

6 The Lord preserveth the simple : when I was in misery he delivered me.

7 Turn again then unto thy rest, O my soul : for the Lord hath rewarded thee.

Psalm cxv. 17. The dead praise not thee, O Lord : neither all they that go down into silence.

18 But we will praise the Lord : from this time forth for evermore.

Praise the Lord from this time forth for evermore. Amen. P. HAYES.

PSALM LXXI.

IN thee, O Lord, have I put my trust, let me never be put to confusion : deliver me, incline thine ear unto me, and save me, O Lord, in thy righteousness.

2 Be thou my strong hold, and my house of defence : for thou hast promised to save me.

3 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the ungodly : out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

4 For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for : thou art my hope, even from my youth.

7 O let my mouth be filled with thy praise :

that I may sing of thy glory and honour all the day long.

8 Cast me not away in the time of age : forsake me not when my strength faileth me.

10 Go not far from me, O God : my God, haste thee to help me.

PSALM CXIX.

RIGHTEOUS art thou, O Lord : and true is thy judgment.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness : and thy law is the truth.

143 Trouble and heaviness have taken hold upon me : yet is my delight in thy commandments. Amen.

P. HAYES.

Psalm CXIX.

RIGHTEOUS art thou, O Lord : and true is thy judgment.

138 The testimonies that thou hast commanded : are exceeding righteous and true.

139 My zeal hath even consumed me : because mine enemies have forgotten thy word.

140 Thy word is tried to the uttermost : and thy servant loveth it.

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting : O grant me understanding, and I shall live.

Alcock.

Psalm XLIV.

WE have heard with our ears, O God, and our fathers have told us : of the mighty works that thou hast done in their time of old ;

2 How thou didst drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plant them in.

3 For they gat not the land by their own sword : it was not their own arm that helped them ;

4 But it was thy right hand, thine arm, and the light of thy countenance.

5 Thou art my king, O God : send help unto Jacob.

6 Through thee will we overthrow our enemies : and in thy name will we tread them down that rise up against us.

PSALM XLVIII.

WE wait for thy loving-kindness, O God : in the midst of thy temple.

9 O God, according to thy name, so is thy praise unto the world's end : thy right hand is full of righteousness.

10 Let the mount Sion rejoice, and let the daughters of Judah be glad : because of thy judgments, O Lord.

11 Walk about Sion, and go round about her : and tell the towers thereof.

12 Mark well her bulwarks, set up her houses : that ye may tell them that come after.

13 For this is our God for ever and ever : he will be our guide unto death.

PSALM CXIV.

WHEN Israel came out of Egypt : and the house of Jacob from among the strange people,

2 Judah was his sanctuary ; and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw that, and fled : Jordan was driven back.

4 The mountains skipped like rams : and the little hills like young sheep.

5 What aileth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest : and thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back ?

6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams : and ye little hills, like young sheep ?

7 Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord : at the presence of the God of Jacob. Hallelujah.

GATES.

Psalm LXXII.

GIVE the king thy judgments, O God : and thy righteousness unto the king's son.

2 Then shall he judge thy people according unto right : and defend the poor.

3 The mountains also shall bring peace : and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

5 They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endureth : from one generation to another.

7 In his time shall the righteous flourish : yea, and abundance of peace, so long as the moon endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from the one sea to the other : and from the flood unto the world's end.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of Israel : which only doeth wondrous things;

Job V.

I WILL seek unto God, and commit my cause unto him :

9 For he doeth great and wondrous things.

10 He giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the fields.

11 He setteth up the lowly on high : and exalteth them that mourn.

13 He taketh the wise in their own craftiness : and carries headlong the counsel of the froward.

14 They meet with darkness, and grope in the noonday as in the night.

15 But he saveth the poor from the sword, and from the hand of the mighty.

17 Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth :

2 Samuel I.

THY beauty, O Israel, is slain upon the high places : how are the mighty fallen!

20 Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon, lest the daughter of the uncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountains of Gilboa, let there be no dew, neither let there be rain, upon you, nor fields of offerings: for the shield of the mighty is vilely cast away, the shield of Saul, as though he had not been anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan turned not back, and the sword of Saul returned not empty.

23 Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided.

24 Ye daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you in scarlet, who put on ornaments of gold upon your apparel.

25 How are the mighty fallen in the midst of battle!

19 Thy beauty, O Israel, is slain upon the high places: how are the mighty fallen!

26 O, my brother Jonathan! I am distressed for thee, O Jonathan. Thou wast slain in thy high places. Very pleasant hast thou been, O Jonathan. Thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women.

27 How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

WHO is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat?

3 I have trodden the wine-press alone, and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation, and my fury it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I will mention the loving-kindness of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which

PSALM CIII.

PRAISE the Lord, O my soul : and all that is within me praise his holy name.

2 Praise the Lord, O my soul : and forget not all his benefits;

3 Who forgiveth all thy sin : and healeth all thine infirmities;

4 Who saveth thy life from destruction : and crowneth thee with mercy and loving-kindness.

20 O praise the Lord, ye angels of his, ye that excel in strength : ye that fulfil his commandment, and hearken unto the voice of his words.

21 O praise the Lord, all ye his hosts : ye servants of his that do his pleasure.

22 O speak good of the Lord, all ye works of his, in all places of his dominion : praise thou the Lord, O my soul. HAYES.

JOB XXVIII.

WHERE shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof; neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me.

15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living.

23 God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven;

25 To make the weight for the winds; and he weigheth the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder:

REVELATION I.

I WAS in the spirit on the Lord's day.

Rev. xix. 1. And I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Hallelujah ; salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2, 3 For true and righteous are his judgments: and again they said Hallelujah.

4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; and again they said, Hallelujah.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Hallelujah: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him; for the marriage of the Lamb is come. Hallelujah.

PSALM CXLVII.

O SING unto the Lord with thanksgiving: sing praises upon the harp unto our God.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea, and his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord setteth up the meek: and bringeth the ungodly down to the ground.

11 The Lord delighteth in them that fear him: and put their trust in his mercy.

12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

GREENE.

Psalm XLIV.

O LORD, why hidest thou thy face : wilt thou hide thy face away from us, and forget our misery and trouble?

25 Unto the dust our soul is bowed : and brought low.

26 Arise, and help us : and deliver us for thy mercy's sake. Bird.

Psalm XXXIV.

I WILL alway give thanks unto the Lord : his praise shall be ever in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O praise the Lord with me : and let us magnify his name together.

Hallelujah. King and Croft.

Psalm CXLIX.

O SING unto the Lord a new song : let the congregation of saints praise him.

2 Let Israel rejoice in him that made him : and let the children of Sion be joyful in their King. Arnold.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people : and helpeth the meek-hearted.

5 Let the saints be joyful with glory.

6 Let the praises of God be in their mouth.

Psalm cl. 6. Let every thing that hath breath : praise the Lord. BOYCE.

Set also by GREENE and TRAVERS.

PSALM XCIX.

O SING unto the Lord : and worship him upon his holy hill.

Psalm xxix. 2. Give the Lord the honour due unto his name : ascribe unto the Lord worship and strength.

Psalm cv. 2. O let your songs be of him, and praise him : and let your talking be of all his wondrous works. ORLANDO GIBBONS.

PSALM XXIII.

THE Lord is my shepherd : therefore can I lack nothing.

2 He shall feed me in a green pasture : and lead me forth beside the waters of comfort.

3 He shall convert my soul : and bring me forth in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil : for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff comfort me.

5 Thou shalt prepare a table before me against them that trouble me : thou hast anointed my head with oil, and my cup shall be full.

6 But thy loving-kindness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life : and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

KENT and HENLEY.

PSALM XXIII.

THE Lord is my shepherd : therefore can I lack nothing.

2 He shall feed me in a green pasture : and lead me forth beside the waters of comfort.

3 He shall convert my soul : and bring me forth in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil : for thou art with me.

Psalm xxxiv. 3. O praise the Lord with me : and let us magnify his name together. Amen.

DUPUIS.

PSALM XCVI.

O WORSHIP the Lord in the beauty of holiness : let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the heathen, that the Lord is King : and that it is he who hath made the round world so fast that it cannot be moved; and how that he shall judge the people righteously.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad : let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is. HAYES.

PSALM VIII.

O LORD our governor, how excellent is thy name in all the world : thou hast set thy glory above the heavens!

1 How excellent is thy name in all the world. HAYES.

PSALM CXVIII.

THE Lord is my strength and my song : and is become my salvation.

15 The voice of joy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous : the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass.

24 This is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Help me now, O Lord : O Lord, send us now prosperity.

26 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord : we have wished you good luck, ye that are of the house of the Lord.

29 O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : and his mercy endureth for ever.

CROFT.

PSALM XXVIII.

THE Lord is my strength and my shield; and he is the defence of his anointed : therefore my heart danceth for joy, and in my song will I praise him.

Psalm xxvii. 6. And now shall he lift up my head : above mine enemies round about me.

7 Therefore will I sing, and speak praises unto the Lord.

Psalm xxviii. 10. O save thy people, and give thy blessing unto thine inheritance : feed them, and set them up for ever.

Psalm lxxix. 14. So we that are thy people, and sheep of thy pasture, shall give thee thanks for ever.

NARES.

PSALM VIII.

O LORD our governor, how excellent is thy name in all the world : thou, O Jehovah, hast set thy glory above the heavens!

2 Out of the mouths of very babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, because of thine enemies : that thou mightest still the fruitless rage of the enemy and avenger.

BISHOP.

3 I will consider thy heavens, even the works of thy almighty hands : the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained.

4 What is a mortal, O Jehovah, that thou art mindful of him : and the son of man, that thou visitest him ?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels : thou hast crowned him with glory and honour.

O Lord our governor, &c.

KENT.

PSALM XCVI.

COMPOSED FOR THE THANKSGIVING, FEB. 1708.

SING unto the Lord, and praise his name : be telling of his salvation from day to day.

Psalm xcii. 4. Thou, Lord, hast made us glad through thy works : and we will rejoice in giving praise for the operation of thy hands.

Psalm lix. 10. Thou, O God, hast shewed us thy goodness plenteously : and hast let us see our desire upon our enemies.

Psalm xxvii. 11. Thou hast been our succour : leave us not, neither forsake us, O God of our salvation.

Psalm lxxix. 14. So we that are thy people, and sheep of thy pasture, will give thee thanks for ever : and will always be shewing forth thy praise from generation to generation.

CROFT.

PSALM VI.

O LORD, rebuke me not in thine indignation : neither chasten me in thy displeasure.

4 Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul : O save me for thy mercy's sake.

2 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak : O Lord, heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul also is sore troubled : but, Lord, how long wilt thou punish me ?

4 Turn thee, O Lord, &c.

BIRD, WELDON, CROFT, and EBDON.

PSALM LXXXI.

SING we merrily unto God our strength : make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the psalm, bring hither the tabret : the merry harp with the lute.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon : even in the time appointed, and upon our solemn feast-day.

4 For this was made a statute for Israel : and a law of the God of Jacob.

9 Hear, O my people, and I will assure thee, O Israel : if thou wilt hearken unto me,

10 There shall no strange god be in thee : neither shalt thou worship any other god.

11 I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

14 O that my people would have hearkened unto me :

15 I should soon have put down their enemies : and turned my hand against their adversaries.

16 The haters of the Lord should have been found liars : but their time should have endured for ever.

17 He should have fed them also with the finest wheat-flour : and with honey out of the stony rock should I have satisfied thee.

1 Sing we merrily, &c.

R. BELLAMY, SEN.

Psalm LXVI.

O PRAISE our God, ye people : and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

14 O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God : and I will tell you what he hath done for my soul.

16 If I incline unto wickedness with mine heart : the Lord will not hear me.

17 But God hath heard me : and considered the voice of my prayer.

Psalm lxix. 31. I will praise the name of God with a song : and magnify it with thanksgiving.

Dupuis.

Psalm XXV.

TURN thee unto me, O Lord, and have mercy upon me : for I am desolate and in misery.

16 The sorrows of my heart are enlarged : O bring thou me out of my troubles.

17 Look upon my adversity and misery : and forgive me all my sin.

18 Consider mine enemies, how many they are : and they bear a tyrannous hate against me.

19 O keep my soul, and deliver me : let me not be confounded, for I have put my trust in thee.

Boyce.

Psalm LXVI.

O PRAISE our God, ye people : and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

9 For thou, O God, hast proved us : thou also hast tried us, like as silver is tried.

14 O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God : and I will tell you what he hath done for my soul.

17 God hath heard me : and considered the voice of my prayer.

18 Praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer : nor turned his mercy from me.

Greene.

Psalm CXIX.

THY word is a lantern unto my feet : and a light unto my paths.

106 I have sworn, and am stedfastly purposed : to keep thy righteous judgments.

107 Quicken me, O Lord, according to thy word.

108 Let the free-will offerings of my mouth please thee, O Lord : and teach me thy judgments.

110 The ungodly have laid a snare for me : but yet I swerved not from thy commandments :

111 They are the very joy of my heart.

Hallelujah.

Purcell.

Psalm CVII.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : and his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let them give thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed : and delivered from the hand of the enemy.

4 They went astray in the wilderness out of the way : and found no city to dwell in;

5 Hungry and thirsty : their soul fainted in them.

6 So they cried unto the Lord in their trouble : and he delivered them from their distress.

7 He led them forth by the right way : that they might go to the city where they dwelt.

8 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men!

Part II.

9 For he satisfieth the empty soul : and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

10 Such as sit in darkness, and the shadow of death : being fast bound in misery and iron;

11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord : and lightly regarded the counsel of the Most Highest;

12 He also brought down their heart through heaviness : they fell down, and there was none to help them.

13 So when they cried unto the Lord in their trouble : he delivered them out of their distress.

14 For he brought them out of darkness, and from the shadow of death : and brake their bonds in sunder.

15 O that men would therefore praise the Lord, &c.

Part III.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass : and smitten the bars of iron in sunder.

17 Foolish men are plagued for their offence : and because of their wickedness.

18 Their soul abhorred all manner of meat : and they were even hard at death's door.

19 So when they cried, &c.

20 He sent his word, and healed them : and they were saved from their destruction.

21 O that men would therefore praise the Lord, &c.

Part IV.

23 All they that go down to the sea in ships : and occupy their business in great waters;

24 These men see the works of the Lord : and his wonders in the deep.

25 For at his word the stormy wind ariseth : which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They are carried up to the heaven, and down again to the deep.

27 Their soul melteth away because of the trouble.

28 So when they cry unto the Lord, &c.

29 For he maketh the storm to cease : so that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad, because they are at rest : and so he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be.

31 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men!

22 That they would offer unto him the sacrifice of thanksgiving : and tell out his works with gladness! MARSH.

[The foregoing anthem may be shortened by leaving out either of the two middle parts.]

PSALM CXXXVI.

O GIVE thanks unto the God of heaven : for his mercy endureth for ever.

3, 4 O give thanks unto the Lord of lords : who only doeth great wonders.

8, 9 He made the sun to rule the day; the moon and stars to govern the night : for his mercy endureth for ever.

23, 24 Who remembered us when we were in trouble : and delivered us from our enemies.

2, 25 O give thanks unto the God of heaven ; for his mercy endureth for ever : God giveth food to all flesh.

NARES.

PSALM XIII.

HOW long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I seek counsel in my soul, and be so vexed in my heart? how long shall mine enemies triumph over me?

3 Consider, and hear me, O Lord my God : lighten mine eyes, that I sleep not in death.

4 Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him : for if I be cast down, they that trouble me will rejoice at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercy : and my heart is joyful in thy salvation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so lovingly with me : yea, I will praise the name of the Lord most highest.

Psalm LXXXVI.

TEACH me thy way, O Lord, and I will walk in thy truth : O knit my heart unto thee, that I may fear thy name.

12 I will thank thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart : and will praise thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me : and thou hast delivered my soul from the nethermost hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me : and the congregations of naughty men have sought after my soul, and have not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou, O Lord God, art full of compassion and mercy : long-suffering, plenteous in goodness and truth.

16 O turn thee then unto me, and have mercy upon me : give thy strength unto thy servant, and help the son of thine handmaid.

ATTWOOD.

PSALM XXXIV.

THE eyes of the Lord are over the righteous : and his ears are open unto their prayers.

16 The countenance of the Lord is against them that do evil.

From the Burial-Service.

I AM the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord : he that believeth in me shall never die. I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.

And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God: whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another. We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. Man that is born of a woman hath but a short time to live, and is full of misery: he cometh up, and is cut down, like a flower; he fleeth as it were a shadow, and never continueth in one stay. In the midst of life we are in death: of whom may we seek succour but of thee, O Lord, who for our sins art justly displeased? Yet, O Lord God most holy, O Lord most mighty, O holy and most merciful Saviour, deliver us not into the bitter pains of eternal death. Thou knowest, Lord, the secrets of our hearts; shut not thy merciful ears to our prayers; but spare us, Lord most holy, O God most mighty, O holy and merciful Saviour, thou most worthy Judge eternal, suffer us not, at our last hour, for any pain of death, to fall from thee. Amen.

I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, From henceforth blessed are the dead which die in the Lord: even so saith the Spirit; for they rest from their labours. Amen.

Psalm CXLII.

I CRIED unto the Lord with my voice : yea, even unto the Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I poured out my complaints before him : and shewed him of my trouble.

4 I looked also upon my right hand : and saw there was no man that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee unto : and no man cared for my soul.

7 Consider my complaint : for I am brought very low.

9 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name. Amen.

Psalm CXVI.

I AM well pleased : that the Lord hath heard the voice of my prayer;

2 That he hath inclined his ear unto me : therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The snares of death compassed me round about : and the pains of hell gat hold upon me.

4 I have found trouble and heaviness, and I did call upon the name of the Lord : O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

5 Gracious is the Lord, and righteous : yea, our God is merciful.

6 The Lord preserveth the simple : when I was in misery, he delivered me.

7 Turn again then unto thy rest, O my soul : for the Lord hath rewarded thee.

8 For he hath delivered my soul from death : mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I shall walk before the Lord : in the land of the living.

PSALM XLV.

MY heart is inditing of a good matter : I speak of the things which I have made unto the King.

10 Kings' daughters were among thy honourable women : upon thy right hand did stand the queen in a vesture of gold.

12 And the King shall have pleasure in thy beauty.

1 Thessalonians IV.

IF we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort one another with these words.

Psalm XVI.

I HAVE set God always before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

10 Wherefore my heart was glad, and my glory rejoiced: my flesh also shall rest in hope.

11 For why? thou shalt not leave my soul in hell: neither shalt thou suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

12 Thou shalt shew me the path of life; in thy presence is the fulness of joy : and at thy right hand there is pleasure for evermore.

PSALM CXXIV.

IF the Lord had not been on our side, now may we say, when men rose up against us;

2 They had swallowed us up quick : when they were so wrathfully displeased at us.

3 Yea, the waters had drowned us : and the stream had gone over our soul.

4 The deep waters of the proud : had gone even over our soul.

5 But praised be the Lord : who hath not given us over as a prey unto them.

PART II.

6 Our soul is escaped even as a bird out of the snare of the fowler : the snare is broken, and we are delivered.

Luke i. 69. The Lord hath wrought a mighty salvation for us.

1 Cor. xv. 55. Thanks be to God, who hath given us the victory.

Psalm xliv. 3. We got not this by our own sword, neither was it our own arm that saved us;

4 But thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance: because thou hadst a favour unto us.

Psalm cxl. 7. The Lord hath appeared for us; the Lord hath covered our heads, and made us to stand in the day of battle.

Exodus xv. 7. The Lord hath appeared for us; the Lord hath overthrown our enemies, and dashed in pieces those that rose up against us.

Psalm cxv. 1. Therefore not unto us, O Lord, not unto us: but unto thy name be given the glory.

Part III.

Psalm xcii. 4. Thou, Lord, hast made us glad through thy works: and we will rejoice in giving praise for the operation of thy hands.

1 Chron. xxix. 13. O God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name.

Hallelujah. Amen. J. Pring.

Revelation VII.

I BEHELD, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, which stood before the throne, clothed with white robes, and palms were in their hands.

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, Hallelujah; salvation to our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb.

13 And I heard a voice, saying, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple.

11 And all the angels who stood round the throne, and the elders, with the four beasts, fell down before the throne, and worshipped God, saying, Hallelujah:

12 Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

Hallelujah.

Psalm CXLII.

I CRIED unto the Lord with my voice : yea, even unto the Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I poured out my complaints before him : and shewed him of my trouble.

3 When my spirit was in heaviness thou knewest my path : in the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked also upon my right hand : and saw there was no man that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee unto : and no man cared for my soul.

6 I cried unto thee, O Lord, and said : Thou art my hope and portion in the land of the living. Croft.

Psalm CXLIV.

BLESSED be the Lord my strength : who teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight.

2 My hope and my fortress, my castle and deliverer, my defender in whom I trust : who subdueth my people that is under me.

3 Lord, what is man, that thou hast such respect unto him : or the son of man, that thou so regardest him ?

4 Man is like a thing of nought : his time passeth away like a shadow.

5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down : touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth thy lightnings, and tear them : shoot out thine arrows, and consume them.

9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God : and sing praises unto thee upon a ten-stringed lute.

10 Thou hast given victory unto kings : and hast delivered David thy servant from the peril of the sword. Hallelujah.

1 CHRONICLES XXIX. 10.

BLESSED be thou, Lord God of Israel our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and the earth are thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head over all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name. KENT.

PSALM XXXII.

BLESSED is he whose unrighteousness is forgiven: and whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth no sin: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away through my daily complaining.

4 For thy hand is heavy upon me day and night: and my moisture is like the drought in summer.

6 I said, I will confess my sins unto the Lord: and so thou forgavest the wickedness of my sin.

7 Therefore shall every one that is godly make his prayer unto thee, in a time when thou mayest be found.

11 For whoso putteth his trust in the Lord, mercy embraceth him on every side.

WISDOM III.

HORRIBLE is the end of the unrighteous generation ;

Wisdom i. 15. But righteousness is immortal.

Wisdom ii. 1. The ungodly said,

6 Come on, let us enjoy the good things that are present.

7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine : and let no flower of the spring pass by us :

9 Let none of us go without his part in our voluptuousness : let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place : for this is our portion, and our lot is this.

Eccles. ii. 9. But remember that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.

Joel xi. 13. Rend your heart and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God : for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

Psalm xxv. 6. Remember not the sins and offences of my youth : but according to thy mercy think thou upon me, O Lord, for thy goodness.

Litany. Spare us, good Lord.

Psalm lxxix. 14. So we that are thy people, and sheep of thy pasture, shall give thee thanks for ever.

2 Chron. xxxiv. 27. Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before him :

28 He will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to the grave in peace.

Psalm lxxix. 14. So we that are thy people, and sheep of thy pasture, shall give thee thanks for ever : and will alway be shewing forth thy praise from generation to generation. Amen.

PSALM CXLIII.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and consider my desire : hearken unto me for thy truth and righteousness' sake.

7 Hear me, O Lord, for my spirit waxeth faint : hide not thy face, lest I be like them that go down into the pit.

8 O let me hear thy loving-kindness, O Lord, for in thee is my trust : shew me the way that I should walk in, for I lift up my soul unto thee.

10 Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God : let thy loving Spirit lead me forth into the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake : and for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble. GREENE.

PSALM LV.

HEAR my prayer, O God : and hide not thyself from my petition.

2 Take heed unto me, and hear me : how I mourn in my prayer, and am vexed.

3 The enemy crieth so, and the ungodly cometh on so fast : for they are minded to do me some mischief; so maliciously are they set against me.

4 My heart is disquieted within me : and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

BY the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept : when we remembered thee, O Sion.

2 As for our harps, we hanged them up : upon the trees that are therein.

3 For they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness : Sing us one of the songs of Sion.

4 How shall we sing the Lord's song : in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem : let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth : yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem : how they said, Down with it, down with it, even to the ground.

WISDOM III.

THE souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

2 In the sight of the unwise they seem to die, and their departure is taken for misery; but they are in peace.

4 For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality.

5 For God hath proved them, and found them worthy of himself.

7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine.

8 They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.

THE souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

2 In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die; and their departure is taken for misery; but they are in peace.

Wisdom v. 5. How are they numbered among the children of God, and their lot is among the saints.

Wisdom iii. 4. For though they be punished in the sight of man, yet is their hope full of immortality.

5 And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded: for God proved them, and found them worthy of himself.

6 As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as burnt-offerings.

7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.

PSALM XVIII.

I WILL love thee, O Lord, my strength; the Lord is my stony rock, and my defence: my Saviour, my God, and my might, in whom I will trust, my buckler, the horn also of my salvation, and my refuge.

2 I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised : so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

3 The sorrows of death compassed me : and the overflowings of ungodliness made me afraid.

4 The pains of hell came about me : the snares of death overtook me.

5 In my trouble I will call upon the Lord : and complain unto my God.

6 So shall he hear my voice out of his holy temple : and my complaint shall come before him, it shall enter even into his ears.

7 The earth trembled and quaked : the very foundations of the hills shook, and were removed, because he was wroth.

13 The Lord also thundered out of heaven, and the Highest gave his thunder : hailstones, and coals of fire.

16 He shall send down from on high to fetch me : and shall take me out of many waters.

PSALM C.

ALL people that on earth do dwell,
Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice;
Him serve with fear, his praise forth tell,
Come ye before him and rejoice.

2 The Lord ye know is God indeed,
Without our aid he did us make;
We are his flock, he doth us feed,
And for his sheep he doth us take.

3 O enter then his gates with praise,
Approach with joy his courts unto;
Praise, laud, and bless his name always,
For it is seemly so to do.

4 For why? the Lord our God is good,
His mercy is for ever sure;
His truth hath always firmly stood,
And shall from age to age endure.

Psalm cxlvi. 4. Blessed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help : and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

Psalm lxii. 7. In God is my health, and my glory : the rock of my might, and in God will I trust.

Psalm cxlvii. 5. Great is the Lord, and great is his power : yea, and his wisdom is infinite.

Part II.

Psalm lxii. 8. O put your trust in him alway, ye people : pour out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

The Lord delivereth the souls of his servants : and all they that put their trust in him shall not be destitute.

Hallelujah.

CROFT.

PARAPHRASE.

O LORD, make thy servant our sovereign lord the king to rejoice in thy strength ; give him his heart's desire, and deny not the request of his lips ; but prevent him with thine everlasting blessing, and give him alway life for ever. Amen.

BIRD.

PSALM CXLV.

GREAT is the Lord, and marvellous, worthy to be praised : there is no end of his greatness.

4 One generation shall praise thy works unto another : and declare thy power. Amen.

HAYES.

PSALM CXVIII.

THIS is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Help me now, O Lord : O Lord, send us now prosperity.

Psalm xlvi. 8. O come hither, and behold the works of the Lord : how wonderful he is in his doings toward the children of men.

9 He maketh wars to cease in all the world.

7 The Lord of hosts is with us : the God of Jacob is our refuge.

For he hath made fast the bars of thy gates, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

He maketh peace in thy borders.

Psalm xlvi. 10. Be still, then, and know that I am God : I will be exalted in the earth.

The Lord of hosts is with us : the God of Jacob is our refuge.

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious : and his mercy endureth for ever. Amen.

CROFT.

ANTHEM.

DISCOMFIT them, O Lord, that trust in their own multitude; and forget not that thou art even he which destroyest wars from the beginning; for the Lord is thy name.

Lift up thine arm, and in thy power bring their power to nought.

Cause thy might to fall in thy wrath.

There was never proud person that pleased thee; but in the prayer of the meek hath thy pleasure been evermore. TALLIS.

Funeral Anthem.

Job XXIX.

WHEN the ear heard him, then it blessed him; and when the eye saw him, it gave witness of him.

He delivered the poor that cried, the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.

Kindness, meekness, and comfort, were in his tongue: if there was any virtue, and if there was any praise, he thought on those things.

Ecclus. xliv. 14. His body is buried in peace, but his name liveth evermore.

HANDEL.

John IV.

BEHOLD, the hour cometh, and now is, when they that worship the Father shall worship him in spirit and in truth.

Luke xii. 43. Blessed are those servants whom the Lord when he cometh shall find so doing. Amen.

T. TOMKINS.

Psalm XXXVII.

FRET not thyself because of the ungodly: neither be thou envious against the evil doers.

2 For they shall soon be cut down as the grass : and be withered even as the green herb.

3 Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and be doing good.

4 Delight thou in the Lord : and he shall give thee thy heart's desire.

5 Commit thy way unto the Lord, and put thy trust in him : and he shall bring it to pass.

6 He shall make thy righteousness as clear as the light : and thy just dealing as the noon-day.

8 Leave off from wrath, and let go displeasure : fret not thyself, else shalt thou be moved to do evil.

Rom. xii. 19. Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

Psalm xxxvii. 40. But the salvation of the righteous cometh of the Lord : who is also their strength in time of trouble.

41 And the Lord shall stand by them, and save them : he shall deliver them from the ungodly, and shall save them, because they put their trust in him. DR. CAMIDGE.

REVELATIONS XIX.

HALLELUJAH; salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgments. Hallelujah, &c.

He is our God, and he is our praise : he hath done for us great and terrible things.

Tell it out among the heathen that the Lord is King : he shall have all his enemies in derision.

Great is our God, and great is his power : great is his mercy towards them that fear him.

Praise him all ye his servants : praise him both small and great.

Trust ye in the Lord for ever : the Lord Jehovah is our rock for evermore.

Hallelujah. ARNOLD.

PSALM CXV.

NOT unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give the praise.

Psalm cxviii. 24. This is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice and be glad in it.

Psalm cxvii. 2. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more towards us : and the truth of the Lord for ever endureth. Praise the Lord.

Psalm cxlv. 21. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord : and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy name for ever and ever. Amen.

The last verse by Handel.

Psalm LIV.

SAVE me, O God, for thy name's sake : and avenge thou my cause in thy strength.

2 Hear my prayer, O Lord : and hearken to the word of my mouth.

3 For strangers are risen up against me : and tyrants, that have not God before their eyes, seek after my soul.

4 Behold, God is my helper : the Lord is with them that uphold my soul. BIRD.

A MOTET.

WITH all our hearts and mouths we confess, praise, and bless thee, God the Father, unbegotten; and thee, the Son, begotten; with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter. Holy and inseparable Trinity, to thee be glory for evermore. Amen. TALLIS.

PSALM L.

THE Lord, even the most mighty God, hath spoken : and called the world, from the rising up of the sun, unto the going down thereof.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared : in perfect beauty.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence : there shall go before him a consuming fire, and a mighty tempest shall be stirred up round about him.

4 He shall call the heaven from above : and the earth, that he may judge his people.

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness : for God is judge himself.

Psalm xcviii. 10. With righteousness shall he judge the world : and the people with equity.

Hallelujah. DUPUIS.

PSALM X.

ARISE, O Lord God, and lift up thine hand : forget not the poor.

16 O Lord, forget not the poor, who committeth himself unto thee; for thou, O God, thou art the helper of the friendless.

Arise, O Lord God.

Psalm xxxv. 10. Lord, who is like unto thee, who deliverest the poor, and him that is in misery ?

Psalm cxvi. 6. I was in misery, and he helped me.

7 Turn again then unto thy rest, O my soul.

6 For I was in misery, and he helped me.

Psalm xxxv. 28. Therefore my tongue shall be talking of thy praise all the day long.

Psalm cxlv. 5. My tongue shall be talking of thy worship : thy glory and wondrous works all the day long.

Psalm cxlvii. 3. He healeth those that are broken in heart : and giveth medicine to heal their sickness.

Psalm cxlvi. 6. He feedeth the hungry; he giveth sight to the blind; he defendeth the fatherless and widow. Hallelujah. Amen.

For grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.

FROM THE COMMUNION SERVICE.

Therefore with angels and archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious name, evermore praising thee, and saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth. Heaven and earth are full of thy glory. Glory be to thee, O Lord most high.

DR. CLARKE.

PSALM CXLVI.

WHILE I live will I praise the Lord : yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any child of man : for there is no help in them.

4 Blessed is he that hath the God of Jacob for help : and whose hope is in the Lord his God. Hallelujah.

LUKE XXIII.

DAUGHTERS of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

Luke xiii. 34. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

Luke xix. 42. If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

PRAYER.

WIPE away my sins, O Lord, which ignorantly in my youth I have done, and give pardon to the penitent; for thou art my Lord; for thou art my God: all the hope of my soul doth rest in thee only. Thou art my health; my tears do testify my grief, my dolour, and affliction. Be mindful, O Lord God, of thy goodwill, and with favour give ear unto my prayer; then shall my heart rejoice in thee, and my spirit shall serve thee for ever. Amen.

Psalm XLVII.

O CLAP your hands together, all ye people : O sing unto God with the voice of melody.

2 For the Lord is high, and to be feared : he is the great King upon the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people under us : and the nations under our feet.

4 He shall choose out an heritage for us : even the worship of Jacob.

5 God is gone up with a merry noise : and the Lord with the sound of the trump.

6 O sing praises, sing praises to our King.

7 For God is the King of all the earth : sing ye praises with understanding.

8 God reigneth over the heathen : God sitteth upon his holy seat.

Isaiah XXXV.

THE wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as a rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice with joy and singing:

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come, even God: he will come and save you.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

8 And a highway shall be there: it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it;

9 But the redeemed shall walk there.

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Sion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

FROM THE COMMUNION SERVICE.

HOLY, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts, heaven and earth are full of thy glory. Glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

Glory be to God on high, and in earth peace, good will towards men. We praise thee, we bless thee, we worship thee, we glorify thee, we give thanks to thee for thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty.

O Lord, the only-begotten Son Jesu Christ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us.

For thou only art holy; thou only art the Lord; thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Psalm XXXIX.

LORD, let me know my end, and the number of my days : that I may be certified how long I have to live.

6 Behold, thou hast made my days as it were a span long : and mine age is even as nothing in respect of thee; and verily every man living is altogether vanity.

7 For man walketh in a vain shadow, and disquieteth himself in vain : he heapeth up riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

8 And now, Lord, what is my hope : truly my hope is even in thee.

12 When thou with rebukes doth chasten man for sin, thou makest his beauty to consume away, like as it were a moth fretting a garment : every man therefore is but vanity.

13 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and with thine ears consider my calling : hold not thy peace at my tears;

ISAIAH LIII.

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of the dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness in him; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows:

Yet did we esteem him striken and smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquity : the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed and he was afflicted, so opened he not his mouth.

He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so openeth he not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison to judgment : who shall declare his generation ?

For he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

PSALM CVII.

THEY that go down to the sea in ships : these men see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For at his word the stormy wind ariseth : which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They are carried up to heaven, and down again to the deep : their soul melteth away because of trouble.

27 They reel too and fro, and stagger like a drunken man : and are at their wit's end.

28 So when they cry unto the Lord in their trouble : he delivereth them out of their distress.

29 For he maketh the storm to cease : so that the waters thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad, because they are at rest : and so he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be.

31 O that men would therefore praise the Lord : and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men!

32 That they would exalt him in the congregation of the people : and praise him in the seat of the elders.

O praise the Lord.

PSALM XLV.

MY heart is inditing of a good matter : I speak of the things which I have made unto the king.

10 At his right hand shall stand the queen, all glorious within ; her clothing is of wrought gold.

15 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework : the virgins that follow shall bear her company.

16 With joy and gladness shall they be brought : and shall enter into the king's palace.

11 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, incline thine ear : forget also thine own people, and thy father's house.

17 Instead of thy fathers thou shalt have children : whom thou mayest make princes in all lands.

APPENDIX.

The Messiah.

A GRAND ORATORIO, COMPOSED BY G. F. HANDEL IN 1741.

Isaiah XL.

COMFORT ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned.

3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: the crooked straight, and the rough places plain.

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Haggai II.

THUS saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

2 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come.

Mal. iii. 1. The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he like a refiner's fire.

3 And he shall purify the sons of Levi, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness.

Isaiah VII.

BEHOLD, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel, God with us.

Isaiah xl. 9. O thou that tellest good tidings to Sion, get thee up into the high mountain: O thou, that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!

Isaiah lx. 1. O thou, that tellest good tidings to Sion, arise, shine, for thy light is come: and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

Isaiah LX.

FOR, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

Isaiah ix. 2. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; and they that dwell in the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

6 For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.

Luke II.

THERE were shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not:

for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth, good will towards men.

Zechariah IX.

REJOICE greatly, O daughter of Sion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee.

10 He is the righteous Saviour, and he shall speak peace unto the heathen.

Rejoice, &c.

Isaiah XXXV.

THEN shall the eyes of the blind be opened, and the ears of the deaf unstopped.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing.

Isaiah xl. 11. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; and he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and gently lead those that are with young.

Matt. xi. 28. Come unto him, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and he will give you rest.

29 Take his yoke upon you, and learn of him; for he is meek and lowly of heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

Matthew XI.

HIS yoke is easy, and his burden is light.

St. John I.

BEHOLD the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sins of the world.

Isaiah LIII.

HE was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows.

5 He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; for the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

Psalm XXII.

ALL they that see him laugh him to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying,

8 He trusted in God that he would deliver him: let him deliver him if he delight in him.

Psalm LXIX.

THY rebuke hath broken his heart; he is full of heaviness: he looked for some to have pity on him, but there was no man, neither found he any to comfort him.

Lamen. i. 12. Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto his sorrow.

Isaiah LVIII.

HE was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of thy people was he stricken.

Psalm xvi. 11. But thou didst not leave his soul in hell : neither didst thou suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

Psalm XXIV.

LIFT up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors : and the King of glory shall come in.

8 Who is the King of glory? The Lord strong and mighty; the Lord, mighty in battle.

10 The Lord of Hosts, he is the King of glory.

Hebrews I.

UNTO which of the angels said God at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee?

6 Let all the angels of God worship him.

Psalm LXVIII.

THOU art gone up on high, thou hast led captivity captive, and received gifts for men : yea, even for thine enemies.

19 That the Lord God might dwell among them.

Psalm LXVIII.

THE Lord gave the word : great was the company of the preachers.

Romans X.

HOW beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things.

18 Their sound is gone out into all lands, and their words unto the ends of the world.

Psalm II.

WHY do the nations so furiously rage together : and why do the people imagine a vain thing ?

2 The kings of the earth rise up, and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord and against his anointed.

3 Let us break their bonds asunder, and cast away their yokes from us.

Psalm II.

HE that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh them to scorn : the Lord shall have them in derision.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces, like a potter's vessel.

Revelation XIX.

HALLELUJAH, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

Rev. xi. 15. The kingdom of this world is become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

Rev. xix. 16. King of kings and Lord of lords for ever. Hallelujah.

Job XIX.

I KNOW that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.

26 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God.

1 Cor. xv. 20. For now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

---

1 Corinthians XV.

SINCE by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

---

1 Corinthians XV.

BEHOLD, I shew you a mystery; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: The trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

---

1 Corinthians XV.

THEN shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law.

57 But thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Romans VIII.

IF God be for us, who can be against us?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect?

34 It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is at the right hand of God, who maketh intercession for us.

Revelation V.

WORTHY is the Lamb that was slain, and hath redeemed us to God by his blood, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 Blessing and honour, glory and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever. Amen.

HANDEL'S SACRED ORATORIO,

Israel in Egypt.

EXODUS I.

NOW there arose a new king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph;

11 And he set over Israel task-masters to afflict them with burdens;

13 And they made them serve with rigour.

Exodus ii. 23. And the children of Israel sighed by reason of their bondage; and their cry came up unto God.

RECIT.

Psalm cv. 26. Then sent he Moses, his servant; and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 These shewed his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.

29 He turned their waters into blood.

CHORUS.

They loathed to drink of the river; he turned their waters into blood.

AIR.

30 Their land brought forth frogs; yea, even in the king's chambers.

He gave their cattle to the pestilence; blotches and blains broke forth on man and beast.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

31 He spake the word, and there came all manner of flies and lice in all their quarters.

34 He spake, and the locusts came without number, and devoured the fruits of the ground.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

32 He gave them hailstones for rain; fire mingled with the hail ran along upon the ground.

CHORUS.

28 He sent a thick darkness over all the land, even darkness that might be felt.

CHORUS.

35 He smote all the first-born of Egypt, the chief of all their strength.

CHORUS.

36 But as for his people, he led them forth like sheep: he brought them out with silver and gold: there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

CHORUS.

37 Egypt was glad when they departed, for the fear of them fell upon them.

CHORUS.

Psalm cvi. 9. He rebuked the Red Sea, and it was dried up : he led them through the deep as through a wilderness :

11 But the waters overwhelmed their enemies ; there was not one of them left.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

Exodus xiv. 31. And Israel saw that great work that the Lord did upon the Egyptians.

CHORUS.

And the people feared the Lord, and believed the Lord, and his servant Moses.

PART II.

DOUBLE CHORUS.—EXODUS XV. 1.

MOSES and the children of Israel sang this song unto the Lord, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously : the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

DUET.

2 The Lord is my strength and my song ; he is become my salvation.

CHORUS.

2 He is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God;

And I will exalt him.

DUET.

3 The Lord is a man of war; Lord is his name:

4 Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red Sea.

CHORUS.

5 The depths have covered them; they sank into the bottom as a stone.

CHORUS.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

CHORUS.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overwhelmed them that rose up against thee.

Thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

CHORUS.

8 And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

AIR.

9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil. My lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword; my hand shall destroy them.

AIR.

10 Thou didst blow with thy wind; the sea covered them; they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

11 Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? Who is like unto thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders? Thou stretchedst out thy right hand.

CHORUS.

12 The earth swallowed them.

DUET.

13 Thou in thy mercy hast led forth thy people which thou hast redeemed. Thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

CHORUS.

14 The people shall hear and be afraid; sorrow shall take hold of them.

15 All the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.

16 By the greatness of thy arm, they shall be as still as a stone, till thy people pass over, O Lord, which thou hast purchased.

AIR.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance; in the place, O Lord, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in; in the sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

RECIT.

19 For the host of Pharaoh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought again the waters of the sea upon them: but the children of Israel went on dry land in the midst of the sea.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

RECIT.

20 And Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand: and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances; and Miriam answered them.

SOLO.

21 Sing ye to the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously.

The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

DOUBLE CHORUS.

21 I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously.

The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

Anthems, &c.

Psalm XCII.

O LORD, how glorious are thy works, all thy works praise thee, O Lord, and thy saints give thanks unto thee.

Psalm lxvi. 7. O praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard : make his praise to be glorious.

O praise the Lord of heaven. Hallelujah. Amen.

From Handel by Bond.

Psalm CIV.

O LORD, how manifold are thy works : in wisdom hast thou made them all; the earth is full of thy riches.

Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, my God, for ever.

I will be glad, and rejoice in thee.

I will speak of all thy wondrous works : for who is he among the clouds that shall be compared unto the Lord, and what is he among the gods that shall be like unto the Lord?

O Lord, how manifold, &c.

From Handel by Bond.

Psalm XXXVIII.

FORSAKE me not, O Lord my God : for, Lord, in thee I put my trust.

Comfort the soul of thy servant : for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

From Handel by Bond.

Psalm XXVII.

ONE thing have I desired of the Lord, which I will require : that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the fair beauty of the Lord, and to visit his temple.

7 I will offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladness : I will sing, and speak praises unto the Lord. From Handel by Bond.

Psalm CXIX.

O LET thy loving mercy come unto me, that I may live : for thy law is my delight.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy : O teach me thy statutes.

Psalm cxviii. 28. Thou art my God, and I will thank thee : thou art my God, and I will praise thee.

Psalm xxi. 13. Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength : so will we sing and praise thy mighty power. From Handel by Bond.

Psalm LXVIII.

SING unto God, and sing praises to his name : O praise him, and rejoice before him.

Psalm cxlv. 2. Every day will I give thanks to thee, my God and King :

Psalm lxvi. 3. All the world shall worship thee, sing of thee, and praise thy glorious name.

Luke ii. 14. Glory to God in the highest. Hallelujah. Amen.

From Handel by Bond.

Psalm CV.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, and call upon his name : and tell of all his wondrous works.

O Lord, thou art my God : I will exalt thee ; I will praise thy name.

The Lord is great, and highly to be praised : the Lord Jehovah is my strength.

Hallelujah. From Handel by Bond.

Psalm CII.

LORD, hear my prayer : and let my crying come unto thee. O save me for thy mercy's sake.

Lord, consider my desire, for I have put my trust in thee.

Let my supplication come before thee, for in thy law is my delight.

I will thank thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart, and praise thy name for evermore.

HANDEL.

A HYMN.

O LORD, I need not to repeat
What I do beg or crave;
For thou dost know, before I ask,
The thing that I would have.

Mercy, good Lord, mercy I ask,
This is the total sum;
For mercy, Lord, is all my suit;
O let thy mercy come.

PITT.

JOB III.

HOW still and peaceful is the grave!
There, life's vain tumults past,
The appointed house, by heaven's decree,
Receives us all at last.

The wicked there from troubling cease,
Their passions rage no more;
And there the weary pilgrim rests
From all the toils he bore.

There rest the prisoners, now released
From slavery's sad abode;
No more they hear the oppressor's voice,
Or dread the tyrant's rod.

There servants, masters, small and great,
Partake the same repose;
And there in peace the ashes mix
Of those who once were foes.

All, levell'd by the hand of death,
Lie sleeping in the tomb,
Till God in judgment calls them forth
To meet their final doom.

EBDON.

GENESIS XLII.

ME have ye bereaved of my children: Joseph is not, Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. All these things are against me;.... and bring down my grey hairs with sorrow to the grave.

MORALES.

PSALM CIV.

THE glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works.

32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they smoke.

33 I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live : I will praise my God while I have my being.

34 My meditation of him shall be sweet : I will be glad in the Lord.

35 Let sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more : bless thou the Lord, O my soul, praise the Lord. Amen.

Arranged from HANDEL by BOND.

PSALM XLII.

AS the hart panteth after the water-brooks, so longeth my soul after thee, O God.

15 O put thy trust in God, for I will thank him : I will praise him who is my hope and my salvation.

MARCELLO.

PSALM XLVII.

SING ye praises unto the Lord; sing praises with understanding unto him that sitteth in the heavens : praise his holy name for ever. Amen.

L. DA VITTORIA.

PSALM CXV.

NOT unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but to thy name give the praise.

Psalm cxlv. 17. The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

Allelujah.

21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy name. Amen.

ORLANDO DI LASSO.

COLLECT FOR THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY.

O ALMIGHTY God, mercifully hear the supplications of thy people, and grant us thy peace all the days of our life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

BARCROFT.

ISAIAH LII.

BREAK forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all nations. Allelujah.

PALESTRINA.

JEREMIAH XXXI.

THIS shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them, saith the Lord. I will forgive them their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

PALESTRINA.

FOR THE CONVERSION OF ST. PAUL.

ACTS XXVI.

I HAVE appeared to thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee: delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, to open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

FRANCESCO DELLA PORTA.

COLLECT FOR ST. THOMAS'S DAY.

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, who for the more confirmation of our faith didst suffer thy holy apostle Thomas to be doubtful in thy Son's resurrection; Grant us so perfectly to believe in thy Son Jesus Christ, that our faith may never be reproved. Hear us, O Lord, through the same Jesus Christ, to whom, with thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, now and ever. Amen.

PALESTRINA.

PSALM CXLV.

THE Lord is good, fresh acts of grace
His pity still supplies,
His anger moves with slowest pace,
His willing mercy flies.

By angels in heaven of every degree,
And saints upon earth, all praise be addrest
To God in three Persons, one God ever blest,
As it has been, now is, and always shall be.

The longing of the poor and meek,
His goodness will supply;
He will revive their fainting hopes,
Who on his strength rely.

Whate'er our various wants require,
With open hand he gives,
And so fulfils the just desire
Of every thing that lives.

Therefore will we the righteous ways
Of Providence proclaim,
Will sing the praise of God most high,
And celebrate his name.

By angels in heaven, &c.

HAYES.

FROM THE ORATORIO OF JUDAS MACCABEUS.

O NEVER, never bow we down,
To the rude stock, or sculptured stone,
But ever worship Israel's God,
Obedient to his awful nod.

O never, never bow we down,
To the rude stock, or sculptured stone;
We worship God, and God alone.

HANDEL.

FROM THE ORATORIO OF THE CREATION.

THE heavens are telling the glory of God,
The wonder of his works displays the firmament.
To-day that is coming speaks it to-day,
The night that is past to following night.
In all the land resounds the word,
Never unperceived, ever understood.

HAYDN.

Psalm XLII.

AS pants the hart for cooling streams,
When heated in the chase:
So longs my soul for thee, O God,
And thy refreshing grace.

2 For thee, my God, the living God,
My thirsty soul doth pine:
O when shall I behold thy face,
Thou Majesty Divine.

King.

A Prayer.

O GOD, whose nature and property is ever to have mercy and to forgive, receive our humble petitions; and though we be tied and bound with the chain of our sins, yet let the pitifulness of thy great mercy loose us, for the honour of Jesus Christ, our Mediator and Advocate. Amen.

Bellamy, Dupuis.

Psalm XVIII.; Revelation XV.

I WILL give thanks to thee, O Lord, and magnify thy holy name. How great and wonderful art thou in all the world! Holy, holy, Lord God of hosts, how great and wonderful art thou in all the world!

Palestrina.

Psalm CXLI.

LORD, I call upon thee, haste thee unto me: have mercy, Lord, and hear me.

Psalm cii. 2. Incline thine ear unto me when I call: O hear me, and that soon.

Psalm xxxix. 13, 15. Hear my prayer, O Lord, for my soul is full of trouble; O haste thee to help me. O my God, how long wilt thou forget me? Hear, and forgive me all my sin. Consider my tears; spare me, that I may recover my strength before I go hence, and be no more seen.

Bond from Handel.

From "The Mount of Olives."

LORD, hear my prayer : and let my crying come unto thee.

Psalm cxliii. 1. O Lord, hear and save me, for thy mercy's sake : Lord, consider my desire, for I have put my trust in thee.

Psalm cxix. 77. Let my supplication come before thee : for in thy law is my delight.

Psalm lxxxvi. 12. I will thank thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart : and praise thy name for evermore. Bond from Handel.

Exodus XV.

WHO is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand.

Exodus ix. 23. He gave them hailstones for rain: fire mingled with the hail ran along upon the ground.

Exodus xv. 7. And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee.

Psalm cv. 35. He smote all the first-born of Egypt: the chief of all their strength.

Psalm lxxviii. 53. But as for his people, he led them forth like sheep.

Psalm cv. 36. He brought them out with silver and gold : there was not one feeble person among their tribes. Hallelujah.

Arranged from HANDEL by PITT.

PARAPHRASE.

IN God rejoice with songs of praise: he is our helper and defence: the Lord Jehovah is our king.

O Lord of hosts, thou art my hope, my Saviour, my God in whom I trust; to thee will I lift up my soul, and bless and praise thy glorious name.

Sing to the Lord, O ye saints of his; sound out his praise through all the earth.

Arranged from HANDEL by BOND.

PSALM VIII.

HOW excellent thy name, O Lord,
In all the world is known!
Above all heavens, O King ador'd,
Thou'st set thy glorious throne.

O sing ye praises to great Jehovah; his power among the nations and wondrous works proclaim.

The great Jehovah is our awful theme,
Sublime in majesty, in power supreme.
Hallelujah.

Arranged from HANDEL by PITT.

Psalm XVIII. (new ver.)

THE Lord descended from above,
And bow'd the heavens most high;
And underneath his feet he cast
The darkness of the sky.

On cherubs, and on cherubims,
Full royally he rode,
And on the wings of mighty winds
Came flying all abroad.

P. Hayes.

Luke II.

HALLELUJAH. Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth; good will towards men.

Matt. xxi. 9. Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Behold, thy King cometh unto thee.

Zech. ix. 9. Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Sion: shout, O daughter of Jerusalem.

Isaiah ix. 6. For unto us a child is born, unto us a Son is given: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the everlasting Father, Prince of Peace, the mighty God.

Hallelujah. Amen.

Arranged from Jomelli by Corfe.

Psalms C., CXVIII., CVII.

O BE joyful, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness; come before him with a song. Let all the people worship him, sing of him, and praise his name. For the Lord our God is great; he is just and merciful. O that men would praise him! Palestrina.

Psalm CIV.

TO God, O my soul, be praises most due;
To the God of my life my song I'll renew:
For thou, great Jehovah, most glorious dost shine,
In majesty clothed, in splendour divine:
Invested with light, as a robe, thou dost sit,
The heavens o'erspread like a curtain of state.
Thy throne to the highest of heavens display'd,
Whose base is as deep as the ocean is laid.
From on high, when descending, upborne by the clouds,
As a chariot, in darkness, his presence he shrouds:
So swift is his motion, so rapid his course,
That the wings of the wind describe not its force.
The angels of God with the pomp do descend,
Surrounding his throne, his work to attend:
As minist'ring spirits most swiftly they fly,
Not lightnings more rapid descend from the sky.

For ever the greatness of God shall endure;
His truth speak his glory, his wisdom most pure,
So guided by mercy, by wisdom and power,
That the Lord shall rejoice in his works every hour.

EBDON.

PSALM LXVIII.

SING unto God, and sing praises unto his name: O praise him, and rejoice before him.

Psalm cxlv. 2. Every day will I give thanks to thee, my God and King.

Psalm lxii. 6, 7. He is my defence, my health, and my glory : the rock of my might, and in God is my trust.

2 He is my strength and my salvation, so that I shall not fall : the Lord is my salvation.

Psalm xxxiv. 1, 2. I will give thanks unto the Lord : his praise shall ever be in my mouth. My soul, be joyful in the Lord : it shall rejoice in his salvation.

3 O praise the Lord with me, and let us magnify his name.

Psalm xxxiii. 19. For he is our help, and our shield.

20 Our heart shall rejoice in him, because our hope is in his holy name.

Bond, from Handel.

Psalm XVII.

GIVE ear unto me, Lord, I beseech thee, for I have walked in thy commandments : let me be judged with righteous judgment.

2 O let my sentence come forth from thy presence.

5 O hold thou me up; guide me in the path of thy commandments : I am thy servant, teach me thy statutes; hold up my goings in all thy paths, so that my steps may not be moved.

PSALM II.

WHY do the heathen rage so furiously against the Lord? Serve ye the Lord in fear; praise and magnify his name; glorify him for evermore. PALESTRINA.

ST. MATTHEW XX.

WHEN the time drew near that all things that were written concerning the Son of man should be accomplished, that he should be delivered unto the Gentiles, and be mocked and spit upon, and that they should scourge him and put him to death, and on the third day he should rise again;

Matt. xxi. 8. Then Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and spread them in the way.

9 And the multitude that went before and followed after, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

PSALM CIII.

PRAISE the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me praise his holy name.

2 Praise the Lord, O my soul: and forget not all his benefits;

3 Who forgiveth all thy sin: and healeth all thine infirmities;

4 Who saveth thy life from destruction: and crowneth thee with mercy and loving-kindness.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy: long-suffering, and of great goodness.

9 He will not alway be chiding: neither keepeth he his anger for ever.

10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins: nor rewarded us according to our wickednesses.

11 For look how high the heaven is in comparison of the earth : so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 Look how wide also the east is from the west : so far hath he set our sins from us.

13 Yea, like as a father pitieth his own children : even so is the Lord merciful unto them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we are made : he remembereth that we are but dust.

22 O speak good of the Lord, all ye works of his, in all places of his dominion : praise thou the Lord, O my soul. PURCELL.

FROM THE LITANY.

REMEMBER not, Lord, our offences, nor the offences of our forefathers; neither take thou vengeance of our sins : spare us, good Lord, spare thy people, whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood, and be not angry with us for ever. AMNER.

PSALM CXVIII.

THIS is the day which the Lord hath made : we will rejoice, and be glad in it.

Psalm cxlv. 3. The Lord is great, and worthy to be praised.

Psalm xciii. 1. The Lord hath put on his glorious apparel : and he hath girded himself with strength. There is no end of his greatness.

Psalm vii. 18. I will give thanks unto the Lord according to his righteousness : and I will praise the name of the Lord Most High.

BOND, from HANDEL.

INDEX.

ABBREVIATIONS, &c. USED IN INDEX.

S. Soprano, or Treble; A. Alto, or Counter Tenor; T. Tenor; B. Bass; Ver. Verse, signifies that the Anthem is partly for 3 or 4 voices, but not chorus. Those Anthems that have no remark after them may be presumed to be "full," or for the whole choir.
